Box 72
Kanona, NY 14856

Dear Ms. Andrews:

Thank you for all of the hard work that you and the other members of the Twin Tier Poultry Club put in to make yesterday's show the great success that it was. All day long I heard nothing but praise for the show and the way things were handled.

I must say that I am still quite overwhelmed by my good fortune in winning as I did. I have never experienced anything quite like it.

Enclosed is an ad for the POULTRY PRESS and a check for $28.00 (# 1615, dated 09-16-1991) to cover the cost of the ad.

Thanks again for all your hard work.

Sincerely yours,

S. Robert Powell

P. S.: There is a small error in my mailing address in the Exhibitors' List that was handed out at the show yesterday. My correct address is "R. D. 1, Box 40" and not "R. D. 4, Box 40" (as given in the list). If you could make that correction in your records, I would appreciate it very much.

Mr. Bob Whitney
8000 Mt. Washington Road
Bath, NY 14810

Dear Bob:

My thanks to you and all of the hard-working members of the Twin Tier Poultry Club for a first-class Fall Show. Everything went beautifully all day.

Given my good fortune in yesterday's show, I think it will take several more days before my feet once again touch earth. Without a doubt, yesterday's show was the most successful day that I have ever had in showing poultry.

On the announcement of this year's TTPC Auction on 09-21-1991, I see that you and Katie Andrews are the Co-Secretaries of the 1992 Fall Show, and that the deadline for contributing individual specials to that show is July 25th. I would like to donate the following individual specials for the 1992 TTPC Fall Show:

$5.00 for Best Standard Orpington
$5.00 for Best Standard Plymouth Rock
$5.00 for Best Standard Wyandotte
$5.00 for Best Standard Minorca
$5.00 for Best Bantam American Game

My check (#1616, dated 09-16-1991) for $25.00 is enclosed.

Thanks again to you and the membership of the TTPC for all of the hard work that you put in to make yesterday's show the great success that it was.

Sincerely yours,

Robert Powell

THE TWIN TIER
POULTRY CLUB SHOW
By Mary Learn, Secty.

The Twin Tier Poultry Club's Show was held on Sunday, September 15, 1991 at the Poultry Building on the Steuben County Fairgrounds in Bath, New York. The show was well attended with some excellent quality birds shown.

Judges August Vinhage and Ernie Durb did an excellent job and we thank them. A trio classic was held for the first time and this was well received. The winners received both cash awards and Bobby Castlebury plaques. The club sponsored a 50-50 raffle, Chinese Auction and Silent Auction. Thank you to everyone who came, and the donations that were received.

On Saturday, September 21, 1991 the club held their annual fall auction. As usual, this turned out to be a chilly day but the fast bidding soon warmed everyone up. If you were still cold, the hot food from our refreshment stand went over well. The Club's two auctions (Spring and Fall) enable us to present the awards at our Show.

We also try to improve the Show each year. This year the inside of the Poultry Building was painted white which brightened up the cages considerably. Thoughts and plans for next year are already underway. Hope to see you all at our Spring Auction in May!

Dear Dr. Powell:

Many thanks for the update on your activities and congratulations on your new position. It certainly sounds as though you are in a very enjoyable situation at Penn State. I continue to be optimistic, despite numerous signs to the contrary, that we will be able to recruit for a full-time position in French in the near future. And I was quite serious about keeping in touch with you in the meantime. Your background in fine arts is also attractive in the kind of setting we have at Alfred.

You're obviously off to a great beginning and I wish you success in the whole endeavor.

With all good wishes,

Mr Powell,

Enclosed is a copy of article for FTA Bulletin concerning my Toronto trip in July. I plan to put together a couple photo pages to accompany the article and will forward them when made. How many copies should I have produced? Will be a couple weeks before I'll be able to get to it though as I am about to take off to Germany for a convention. Am going to stop on way over in England a couple days and hope to get a chance to visit some of the Tyger fanciers there. The trip is messing up my attempt to compete in Fall series as even though the kit has been doing well I won't be home for the first one this weekend and they won't get much work while I'm gone so could be flat when I get back.

Best wishes
Jim

TORONTO TIPPLER FANCIERS, A - Z
By - Tim Kvidera

Well to be honest, my loft hopping visits in Toronto July 13 and 14, 1991 did not span the whole alphabet, but it did include Basic to Zovich with nine others in between.

I needed to be a couple hours north of Toronto on business Monday morning, so I took advantage of the "free" trip to come a couple days early and take advantage of a long standing invitation by Oskar Zovich, and get a chance to meet many of the Toronto area Tippler fanciers. Kathy and Oskar were fantastic hosts. I thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to meet them and pleasant family of Rob, Elita and Elvis.

I arrived at Oskar's early Saturday afternoon. After spending some time visiting and looking through his birds we were off. With Oskar as my faithful and informative tour guide and chauffeur we started at Herb Keay's. Harry Smith and Herb were there. They share a loft at Herb's place and Harry had a kit up for us to watch while we chatted. The kit was quite fresh when we arrived but settled down well for their training flight while we had a few brews. They flew medium to low and rambled or raked quite well. Herb and Harry have a nice location to fly from. The loft name "Hillcrest" accurately describes the location, but they do have to contend with a neighbor's TV antenna when dropping their birds.

Next stop was Donny Wilson's. Donny is located in a fairly flat area which is only about a mile from the lake so often has favorable wind conditions. He is a long time Tippler flyer who keeps the old families of Lincoln, Pass and Waterfall.

We next stopped at George Vertolli's, another fairly flat location close to the lake, but also closer to downtown. George flies his birds from a loft on the rooftop of his garage which gives one a pretty good view to watch the kit. He holds the current North American record.

Oskar and I stopped by Harry Hunt's a couple times that evening, but did not find Harry home until Sunday morning. Hunt is a name which has for decades been synonymous with high quality Tipplers in Canada. Although Harry has not been very active the past few years, since the passing of his wife he has a few of his sharp looking mottles.

Next stop was Martin Beedie's. The lofts are located at the back of a spacious, well kept yard. Martin has flown some very good times with his birds and had sharp looking group of cock birds in the kit box.

From there we went to Smail Basic's. He is located on the side of a slight hill. Smail has recently added an office to the opposite side of the spacious flypen attached to the loft. He had a kit of young birds up which were raking very well.

After returning to Oskar's we walked a couple blocks over to Stan Harris's. He had his old cock kit up which had performed so well this past season. Stan is located on the same ridge as Oskar, both having sharp valleys nearby. Unfortunately, he has a pigeon keeper a couple houses away who flock flies another breed that complicates some of Stan's training program.

Our next stop was at Henry Langley's, the oldest member of the Ontario Tippler Union. He is located down in a hole so does not have a prime flying location. If memory serves me right the Langleys are about to (or just did) celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary. Congratulations.

The last loft on the whirl wind tour was that of Gord Chater. His new home is located on a little hill. Gord has flown numerous good times. He currently is the FTA Young Bird Record Holder with 16:02.

Everywhere we went I saw high quality Tipplers. Even though many of the lofts were testament to the decades of use, all were very clean and the birds well cared for. There were a few instances where a fancier kept some specific "strains", but typically the concern was for quality of individual performance and ancestral performance than "family" lineage. A birds worth has to be proved in the air before it will be considered in the breeding loft. And unless it produces quality flying offspring, it won't stay there long. The type of bird common throughout was of Swansea background along with Bartholomew, and Lovatt and crosses thereof, as well as some of the older "Canadian" types - Prud'homme, Balmer, Lincoln, Pass and Waterfall.

I have often been asked why I thought the Canadian fanciers flew tipplers so well. My answer has been that they typically are more dedicated to proper training and conditioning of their birds than most of us in the States. My visit confirmed this, but also revealed a couple other relevant factors. To a man, with the exception of Langley, all had from good to great flying locations. The terrain in the areas of Toronto that I visited allowed for many good winds. There is an old Tippler saying that "location will beat condition" and there is a lot of truth to it. There are very few Tippler flyers that I have visited in the U. S. who have flying locations to rival those I saw in Toronto. Another major factor in their success is cooperation. Good birds and techniques are not closely guarded, they are shared. Oskar Zovich has flown some of the best times consistent over the last decade. His birds, many of them 15+ hour flyers, are in the lofts of others throughout the area, as are birds from other top fanciers.

I would like to thank all those mentioned for making me feel so welcome. I thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to meet all of you. A special thanks to Oskar, Kathy and family for their hospitality and all they did to make the weekend possible.

Dear Robert,

Thank you for your letter of August 30 regarding your conversation with Mrs. Kathryn Ball of West Caldwell, New Jersey. Also, thank you for passing along her name and address.

As a matter of coincidence, my wife had noticed columns in the Christian Science Monitor by a John Gould of Friendship, Maine in which he often mentioned Dominiques. Mainly because of her interest in his articles she continued her subscription to the Monitor and saved many of his columns. To make a long story short, she learned from these articles and from phoning John that he was the son of the Frank Gould who was at one time the president of the National American Dominique Club. Mrs. Ball is apparently the sister of John Gould. The enclosed issue of the Dominique News recounts my wife's visit to Friendship, Maine to interview John for our club's historical records. John is now a Life Member of the Dominique Club of America, and we correspond with him occasionally.

We will contact Mrs. Ball as soon as we return from a trip to Hampton, Iowa for the Annual Dominique Club Meet and Meeting.

Thanks again for your note. We look forward to seeing you again at a show and will keep you informed about our contact with Mrs. Ball.

Sincerely,

Roger

DOMINIQUE HISTORY — Author John Gould

Provides Ties to the Dominiques' Past

In our quest for history of the Dominique breed and breeders we have interviewed and written about Dominique Club Charter Member Clarence W. (Walt) Withey, who was the last president of the National American Dominique Club, which existed from about 1912 until the early 1930's. Now we are pleased to have had the opportunity to talk with another person who bridges back to that earlier club.

Before I go on, let me introduce Mr. John Gould, well-known columnist for the Christian Science Monitor and author of several books of humorous essays on New England farm life. I've especially enjoyed his column in the Monitor over the years, and have noticed several references to his father's having had Dominiques and to the National American Dominique Club. Clippings of some of these articles have also been sent to us. For example, we mentioned one in Dominique News of August 1980. So it was decided by my fellow Dominique historians that I should visit Mr. Gould. He graciously agreed to an interview, which took place at his home in Friendship, Maine on April 21, 1990.

His recollection begins with noted Dominique breeder A. Q. Carter of Freeport, Maine, a prominent business man who was deeply involved in the poultry fancy and specialized in the Dominique breed. He showed his Dominiques widely and very successfully. In 1913 he was Secretary-Treasurer of the then relatively new National American Dominique Club. Photographs of a Dominique cock and hen of Carter's that in 1913 had each placed first in the stiff competition at the prestigious Boston Show appeared in a 1914 publication of the club called "Dominique Doings", a copy of which we have. Enlargements of these photographs, retouched by well-known artist Arthur Schilling, were used as the

PLAN TO ATTEND THE NORTH IOWA SHOW IN MID-SEPTEMBER

The Dominique Club's next scheduled meet is being hosted by the North Iowa Poultry Exposition Show in Hampton, IA on September 15 and 16. This show was selected for one of our 1990 Regional Meets because of its excellent reputation, built up over its 30 year history, because of the enthusiasm of its members who encouraged us to show there, and because Iowa was a state which our Club had not yet visited. Dominique Club members who have been to the North Iowa Show in past years highly recommended it. The article on page 1 (top left) of the May issue of Poultry Press provides more detail and lists the fine group of judges that will be there. Importantly, each of these judges knows Dominiques. A good number of out-of-state Dominique breeders including a contingent from Missouri and your Secretary-Treasurer from Pennsylvania, in addition to the Iowa fanciers, will attend.

SCHEDULED MEETS WITH AWARDS FOR LARGE AND BANTAM DOMINIQUE

The following shows are hosting Dominique Club meets:

- North Iowa Poultry Exposition, Hampton, IA, Sept. 15-16 (Dominique Club Regional Meet)
- Central Oklahoma Poultry Association Fall Show, Guthrie, OK, Oct 19-20 (Dominique Club Area Meet)
- Southern Missouri Show, Springfield, MO, Oct. 20-21 (Dominique Club Area Meet)
- Garden State Poultry Fanciers Show, Flemington, NJ, Nov. 10-11 (Dominique Club Regional Meet)
- Virginia Poultry Breeders Assoc. Show, Richmond, Nov. 17-18 (DOMINIQUE CLUB ANNUAL NATIONAL MEET and MEETING)

NEXT ISSUE

The next issue of the Dominique News is scheduled to be mailed in early September. Your news items, articles, general information, comments and advertisements are most welcome. To be included in this issue they should reach us by August 31.

illustrations of the Dominique breed in the 1915 Standard of Perfection and in every subsequent edition of the black and white Standard from then until it was replaced by the Standard of Perfection (in color) in 1985.

(My husband was able to purchase the original retouched pictures, which were auctioned off at the 1987 APA National at Claremore, Oklahoma. They now hang in a prominent location in our home. Schilling's retouching is quite apparent.)

Eventually Carter was forced by ill health to sell his land and the flock. Franklin F. Gould, John's father, who worked for the Railway Post Office of the Bangor and Boston Railway, bought the property and the Dominiques along with it in 1918. One of young John's regular chores was feeding the Dominiques. He remembers that his father soon became an avid breeder and exhibitor of Dominiques and was proud to be maintaining Carter's fine strain. For example, Franklin showed Dominiques extensively in New England, at Madison Square Garden, New York and at Ottawa, Canada. He was president of the Freeport Poultry Association. John recalls that the poultry shows at Freeport and at Portland, Maine, together with the Boston Show, were the important shows in the Northeast. Because of the high quality of the Carter strain, Freeport had been an important center of Dominique activity. In about 1925, Franklin Gould became president of the National American Dominique Club, a post which he held for several years. This was now a period of decline in the popularity of Dominiques. But John's writings have served to keep the name of the Dominique, America's oldest breed, before the public.

John Gould has provided a unique insight into this phase of Dominique history and an organization of Dominique breeders. In appreciation, our Executive Committee has made him a Life Member of the Dominique Club of America. I presented him with a Club badge and a framed copy of the Hegemann drawing of a Dominique cockerel. We have learned a great deal about the background of our favorite breed and I thank John on behalf of the Club.

FROM THE SECRETARY'S DESK

The Dominique Club warmly welcomes the following new members:

- JOHN GOULD, HR 68, Box 442, Friendship, ME 04547. John's connection with Dominique chickens is described in the feature article in this issue.
- JOSEPH PETRUSEWICZ, 29 Island Ave., Houghs Neck, Quincy, MA 02169. Joseph is interested in large Dominiques and recently obtained a shipment of 25 chicks from Wichita, KS.
- T. W. COMER, 260 West Main St., Hendersonville, TN 37075. We look forward to learning about T.W.'s interest in Dominiques.
- JAMES DAHNERT, Rt. 1, Box 175, Jefferson, WI 53549. James is looking for a source of Dominique bantam eggs.
- GEORGE O. SLANKARD, P.O. Box 211, Sesser, IL 62884. George is interested in information published by the Club and asks about a source of Dominique chicks.
- GENESEE COUNTRY MUSEUM. This museum in Mumford, NY (between Rochester and Buffalo) is a representation of a 19th Century settlement. Their current flock of large Dominiques needs some new blood. Stanley Cowton at the museum (P.O. Box 310, Mumford, NY 14511) is the contact person in this matter. Our Club held a Regional Meet at this interesting location in 1988.

Carol and I very much enjoyed our weekend in early May in Bloomsburg, PA as guests of WALLY and ROSE CASAZZA and attending the fine Central PA Avian Club Show.

Congratulations to STEVE HAWKINS for winning Champion and Reserve on his large Dominique hen and pullet at the Missouri State Poultry Assoc. Show and, similarly, to MARK FIELDS for the wins by his Dominique bantam hen and cock. Steve also took Champion Trio.

9/19/91 - Received a very nice letter from Dean
Gronkowski at Alfred University today at Penn State - in reply to my letter to her of 09-11-91. It is very encouraging and has made my day, as it were. The absolutely best part about the letter is that it recognizes me as a faculty member here at Penn State. I am a legitimate practicing professional from her point of view and all because of one course: Humanities 001.
It seems unimportant that I am an adjunct - the important thing is that I am currently teaching on the college level -
and not just at any old college or school, but at PSU, with its Stupendous reputation! It is unimportant that I am an adjunct member of the faculty at a "campus" of PSU. My letter ^{on PSU stationery} and the manner of my presentation have carried

the day and that is wonderful.
It was, de plus, very nice to receive the letter in my PSU campus mailbox. Jack Kolbert is certainly right: there is an immense weight attached to having/using one's current academic stationery and an academic address. It legitimizes everything. A full-time position at Alfred would be wonderful! 1501

Please don't let me bother you too much but in the spring if you don't have anycks from you good Golden Laced Wyandottes I would buy as few as 6 eggs from you. As if this doesn't wash I'll buy a pullet now or a hen in the spring.

Thanks for having the best B.L. Wyandottes.

Dear Mr. Myers,

Thank you for your letter of 9/20/91
about Golden-Laced Wyandottes.

Let's wait until spring and see what things look like at that point. It seems likely that I will have some eggs for and I don't really have any extra hens or pullets at this time.

Thanks again for your interest.

09-22-91-8:45 P.M.

Cooped in 21 birds at the Bloomsbury Fair today. DWP I & II and I left home at about 9 A.M. and arrived comfortably at the back door of the poultry building at about 11:30 A.M. The staff there was very welcoming and professional this year. They now know ^{how} to carry chickens properly and get them into the cages without messing them up. Wally Casazza was the check-in superintendent and the staff of Bloomsbury College young men who work in the building are grand. They took the birds from the exhibitors at the back door and then they put the birds in the cages. Virtually effortless for the exhibitors. I now have the 1504

transportation of poultry to show
down to a science: about 15+ standard birds can easily be transported loose in the trunk of the car on an inch thick bed of shavings on top of a covering on the floor of the trunk of the car. The birds settle right down and they don't mess up their tail feathers and they are very contented. Roosters can also ^{be} put in because it is dark in the trunk and they don't bother the hens. Upon arrival at the show the birds are easily retrieved from the trunk and any droppings can be easily and neatly removed

and the shavings freshened up with the shavings available at the show in question. It worked beautifully this morning and I am confident it will work henceforth / dorénavant. Once the birds were in and settled and I was confident that all was well,
 we did the rounds of the fair,
 which is immense, of course.
 There are, I am interested to note, 17 exhibitors of poultry who show at Bloomsbury — not a great deal when you get right down to it. It was a beautiful, very beautiful, early Fall day —
 full sun, breezy, temperature
 in the 60's & 70's — and there ¹⁵⁰⁶
 were "millions" of people at the

Fair. I don't think I have ever seen larger crowds there. DWP II had a grand time on the rides and went on at least five different ones.
Dunn Bortner was in the poultry building this afternoon. He and George Schinner will judge the poultry tomorrow morning.

Dunn is judging everywhere these days. He is a very highly respected judge and a nice guy in every sense. The coop here at home seems peculiarly empty since I took lots of my second-string birds down to Blomberg because they will easily win the premiums
money — six Black Orpingtons ¹⁵⁰⁷
here and a cock, three Partridge

Rock here, from Cuckoo Belgium, etc. No competition and they should all get the premium.
It's fun and the winnings pay
some of the feed bills.

Heavy frost last night — the first of the season. Many of Dad's morning gloves were killed and some of the daisies. It was very "raw" at sunset last night and the frost came as no surprise to anyone. Autumn began at 7:48 A.M. ^{on 8:48 E.D.T.} E.S.T. Tomorrow and the full Harvest Moon is tomorrow night. The heavens are full of "events" tomorrow, as it were.
On the equinox, the sun rises due East and sets due West.

9/23/91 - 12:50 P.M. Harvest Mom tonight
What is it? The full moon? Phone call for Dad last night after he had gone to bed (something about a Penn DOT paving machine); phone call for DWP this morning before 7 A.M. (Susquehanna H.S. wanting him to substitute today). DWP got up and went out and took care of the dogs. DWP II woke up about 20 minutes later (DWP still outside) and came to the head of the stairs crying: "Where's my daddy?"
Mom & I immediately quieted him down. At lunch today, we were interrupted by the arrival of a Lackawanna County Sheriff's car

and a hand-delivered letter from the County regarding "the accident" at Merli-Sarnoski that DWP was involved in last year. Very upsetting. DWP is at PSU at present teaching his classes. The official communication - whatever it is - is waiting for DWP in his mail-receiving pile on top of the metal cabinet at the base of the back stairs.

WSP offered to show me how to get to Deposit, NY after lunch today - "for when you go to Cobleskill this coming Sunday." I declined the offer, saying that I had too much work to do to get ready. 1516 for my class tomorrow. The last thing I want to do today is to get roped into an all afternoon drive with WSP lecturing non-stop on everything. I made tea and withdrew to my room, where I now am and where I am very consciously trying to "return to normal". At last, at long last, my ^{re-done} gummed address labels have arrived — and they are done correctly this time:

S. Robert Powell
RD #1, Box 40
Carbondale, PA 18407-9706

They are particularly useful and I am glad to have them — I believe I have 1,000 of them, maybe more. That summed last for some time.

Autumn began this morning at 8:48 A.M. On the Spring and Autumn equinoxes, the sun rises and sets ^{precisely} in the East and West, respectively; on the date of the Summer Solstice, the sun rises at the most northeastern point along the horizon; on the Winter Solstice, it rises at the most southeastern point.

755 P.M. — beautiful full Harvest Moon climbing upward in the autumn sky. Yellow/orange and very large: down in the valley.

Babysitting for DWP II - at Penn State.
Picked him up at about 5 P.M. at the
A.B.C. Academy and we came here, and settled in for the evening. In the main office, DWP II once again won the hearts of the staff. Everyone always thinks he's older than he is - which is a result of two facts: he's very bright and verbal; and his father (and Uncle Robert) treat him as an adult. At the library, we had a pleasant Chat/visit with Dr. Fitzsimmons and Mrs. Monahan and then went into the Computer room, where I made updates and corrections to my Humanities exam and then, to my great surprise and pleasure, I was able to print out my text - in very satisfactory type although it is not a letter-quality printer. I was therefore able to produce what is very likely final copy for my exam next week. I believe that I will retain the computer disc copy of my first Humanities exam for future use. As I worked away at printing my exam, one of OWP's students, a Vince Miholik, identified himself and asked if I could help him start the printer. I provided the little help that I could & he seemed grateful. 1522

DWP II is now cavorting about the student cafeteria/recreation area — and having a grand time. He is watching the College boys at the pinball machine and at the ping-pong table. He really is very exceptional in the way that he "settles in" regardless of where he is. He will attend my class tonight (in 30 minutes) and that ought to add a new dimension to Humanities I. DWP's schedule this afternoon and evening was too complex for him to take along DWP II — which is why he's here with me.

Had some preliminary sorting among the 8 American Game Bantam pullets this afternoon — and located one with fairly good stippling and shafting. More examination and analysis will be required before final decision can be reached on which one to breed
from. Most of the pullets
do not have good stippling;
one of the old hens, I noticed,
has very good stippling. Does stippling get better with age?
Maybe one old hen has good stippling and one doesn't? I'll have to investigate. I do know

S.

that the best 1991 cockerel is virtually perfect. Surely he will be mated to his mother or aunt—or both—depending on the stippling in the old hen. I do have at least three cockerels
that can be do-accessioned—
as well as several pullets.

Dr. Margaret Cote
207 Old Main, Dept. CHE/9-4
The Pennsylvania State University
University Park, PA 16802

Dear Dr. Cote:

I would like to present my candidacy for the full-time, tenure track position in French at the Beaver Campus of Penn State, beginning with the academic year 1992-1993. A copy of my current resume is enclosed. My complete placement credentials are on file at the Career Development and Placement Center at Penn State and I have today requested that Ms. Linda Fisher in that office send a copy of my placement credentials to you.

During the academic year 1990-1991, I taught in the Department of Modern Languages at Susquehanna University as a Visiting Assistant Professor of French. During the Spring semester, I taught three courses: elementary French, advanced French composition and conversation, and nineteenth-century French literature.

Together with Dr. Jack Kolbert, the Chair of the Department of Modern Languages at Susquehanna University, I was directly involved in the many activities of the Department in the following ways:

- participated in meetings on the use of placement and proficiency exams;
- administered comprehensive exams to graduating seniors to certify them as graduates of the Department;
- served as faculty advisor to the French Club;
- led a group of students from the French Club on a bus trip to New York City to view the Fauve Show at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, to have dinner in a French restaurant, and to attend a performance of Les Femmes Savantes;
- led a group of students from the French Club on a bus trip to Montclair State University, Montclair, NJ, to attend a lecture by the world-renowned French author, Michel Butor;
- participated in the initiation ceremonies of Pi Delta Phi (National French Honor Society) and Phi Sigma Iota (National Romance Language Honor Society);
- served as the faculty representative in French to the weekly "French Language Table" in the student dining hall.

During my very busy and immensely rewarding term of service at Susquehanna University, Professor Kolbert observed me teaching and I have asked him to write to you directly to report not only on the quality of my teaching but also on the strength of my commitment to and enthusiasm for undergraduate education.

September 30, 1991

Currently I am teaching Humanities 001 as an adjunct member of the faculty at the Worthington Scranton Campus of Penn State. To have been given the opportunity to teach undergraduate courses in the Humanities, which I have wanted to do for many years, has had an extraordinary tonic-like effect on my critical thinking. At the same time, it presents exciting new challenges to familiar pedagogical methods because I am, as it were, teaching outside of my field of specialization. At present, my students and I, with shirt sleeves rolled up to the elbows, are probing the heights and depths of the Bible, Plato, Aristotle, Virgil, Dante, among others. It's a wonderful experience for me and I am confident that at the end of the semester the students will all agree that the journey has been very worthwhile.

I look forward to hearing from you in regard to the full-time position in French at the Beaver Campus, beginning with the academic year 1992-1993.

Sincerely yours,

S. Robert Powell

Dear Ms. Fisher:

I am applying for the full-time position in French at the Beaver Campus of Penn State and would like you to send a copy of my placement folder to the following person:

Dr. Margaret Cote

Dr. Cote would like to have a copy of my placement credentials by October 15th.

As always, your assistance in these matters is greatly appreciated.

Dear Jack:

There is a full-time, tenure track opening in French at the Beaver Campus of Penn State for next year and I have applied for the position.

If you would be willing to write a letter of recommendation on my behalf to Dr. Margaret Cote at Penn State, I would appreciate it very much. The top priority for positions at the Commonwealth campuses of Penn State appears to be "a proven record of effectiveness in teaching" (followed by research and scholarly activities). In that regard, if, in the letter that I hope you will write, you could emphasize my qualities as a teacher and my commitment to undergraduate education, as well as my involvement in virtually all of the French activities of the Department during my time at Susquehanna, it would be grand.

The person to whom I would like you to write is:

Dr. Margaret Cote
207 Old Main, Dept. CHE/9-4
The Pennsylvania State University
University Park, PA 16802

Penn State's deadline for receiving letters of recommendation is October 15th.

It occurs to me as I write this that possibly the student evaluations of the faculty at Susquehanna from last Spring are now in print. If they are, perhaps you could send me a copy of the report from my students. (If the report on me is good--and it seems that it probably should be, although one can never be sure of what the students will say--I will send a copy to Dr. Cote. If the report is not good, I will quietly bury it in a pile of papers and forget about it.)

One additional request: may I also ask you to send a copy of your letter to Dr. Cote to the Placement Service at Penn State? That way, I will not have to trouble you again with a request for a letter of recommendation. The letter to the Placement Service should probably be addressed: To whom it may concern.

The Placement Service's address is as follows:

Ms. Linda Fisher

I have discussed my application for the position at the Beaver Campus with the Dean of Academic Affairs here (Dr. Sherbine) and he will support my candidacy, which should strengthen the application.

Since my letter to you of September 12th, I have had a letter from Juniata College. The position in French there has been filled "on a part-time, temporary basis." They will announce this Fall a full-time continuing position in French at Juniata College and "would be pleased" to have me present my candidacy for that position if I am still available. I immediately wrote back (Dr. Karen Wiley Sandler, Vice President and Dean of Academic Affairs) and said that I was very interested etc.

Also, you may remember that when Alfred University turned me down this summer, the Dean there telephoned me and told me that "because of equal employment considerations they could not offer the position to me". "I will tell you this over the phone," said she, "but I can not, for obvious reasons, put it in writing." In spite of all that, the Dean, at that time, did write me a very nice letter and asked me to please tell her where I would be teaching in the Fall because, as she said, she did not want to lose contact with me. On September 11th, I wrote to her and told her about my current Penn State position and she wrote back and thanked me for updating her on my current activities and stated: "I continue to be optimistic, despite numerous signs to the contrary, that we will be able to recruit for a full-time position in French in the near future. And I was quite serious about keeping in touch with you in the meantime. Your background in fine arts is also attractive in the kind of setting we have at Alfred."

So that's where I stand. One of these days, I'm going to wake up and discover that someone has offered me a job. I can hardly wait for that day.

Sincerely,

HARFORD (PA) FAIR POULTRY SHOW
By S. Robert Powell

The 134th annual Harford (PA) Fair Poultry Show took place August 19-24, 1991, in the poultry building on the Harford Agricultural Society's fairgrounds in Susquehanna County. Anson Tiffany, poultry superintendent, reported that close to 600 birds were exhibited by the following persons: Cecil Rose, Chuck Campfield, Robert Anke, Merl Rynearson, Gordon Walter, Richard Walworth, Scott Mitchell, Anson Tiffany, S. Robert Powell, Billy Simons, Jenny Simons, Jeffrey Zick, Brandon Zick, Bristol Zick and Bridget Zick.

The show was judged by the well known APA judge, George Schroeder of Prompton, PA, who was hard at work judging by 7 A.M. on judging day, August 20th. By 3 P.M., the following champions were selected:

In 1990, the tradition of awarding a trophy in honor of Cecil E. Rose, President Emeritus of the Harford Fair and Superintendent Emeritus of the poultry building, was instituted. The Cecil Rose trophy is awarded to the exhibitor of the Grand Champion of the poultry show. This year's Cecil Rose trophy was awarded to Chuck Campfield, Hawley, PA, for his Barred Rock Bantam pullet.

Tens of thousands of fair-goers passed through the poultry building during the week. Virtually all of those visitors admired the champions of the show as selected by George Schroeder, an APA judge who is nationally known as a breeder and exhibitor of Black Cochin Bantams. In addition to the champions selected by Judge Schroeder, the following birds attracted the attention of the majority of the visitors to the poultry building: the bantam Frizzles (clean legged and feather legged) shown by Cecil Rose; the Non-Bearded White Silkie cock, shown by Scott Mitchell; the Bearded Buff-Laced Polish hens, shown by Bristol Zick; the standard White Orpington cock and pair of Birchen Modern Game bantams, shown by S. Robert Powell; the White Crested Black Polish cock, shown by Scott Mitchell; the pair of White Crested Black Polish, shown by Cecil Rose; the Silver Sebrights, shown by Bristol Zick, Jeffrey Zick, Cecil Rose, Scott Mitchell, and S. Robert Powell; the Golden Sebrights, shown by Brandon Zick, Cecil Rose, Jeffrey Zick, Bristol Zick, and Bridget Zick.

The Harford Fair always takes place during the third full week of August. Next year's Fair will take place, August 18-22, 1992. For information on the Fair and the poultry show held in conjunction with the annual fair, interested persons are asked to contact: Mrs. Phyllis Ridgeway, R.D. 1, Kingsley, PA 18826.

33RD ANNUAL FINGER LAKES SHOW By Bill Ehlers

The great New York State Fairgrounds hosted the 33rd Annual Finger Lakes Feather Club Show on June 2, 1991. Attendance was very good with 57 exhibitors from many States in the Northeast.

The weatherman cooperated with a lovely day and the quality of the birds presented a challenge to our fine judges: Elton Minnich, Art Schallenberg and Jerry Yeaw. These fine gentlemen went right to work promptly at 10 a.m. and by 2:30 p.m. Champion Row was completed. A very hearty thanks to these excellent judges on the job that they did!

Before the trophies were presented Carl Hibbard was honored for his many years of dedication to the Fancy. John Pierce did the honors with many antidotes of his experiences with Carl through the years.

Carl, we were proud as a Club to be able to recognize your many accomplishments and dedication in so honoring you. May I extend my own congratulations!

Champion Large Fowl was won by Elaine and Maurice Nelson from Newport, New Hampshire with a White Plymouth Rock Hen, this is the fourth straight year, the Nelsons, have won Champion. Congratulations Elaine and Maurice! Dick and Theola Waldau from Constantia, New York had Reserve Champion Large Fowl with a beautiful Salmon Faverolle Cock. Bill

Ryan up from Mayfield, New York won Champion Waterfowl, Champion Bantam Duck and Grand Champion Bantam with a Gray Call Hen, quite a accomplishment Bill! Bill and Kathy Marquart from Central Square, New York had Reserve Champion Bantam with a Dark Cornish Hen. Marietta Schuth from Kent, New York rounded out the winners with Reserve Champion Waterfowl with a African Gander Goose.

Well the Show is behind us, but, the memories linger of all the fine friends and exhibitors that attended. My many thanks to all of you for your many contributions to the 33rd. Till next year!

The Cobleskill Show, Sunday the 29th of September (written up on 10-03-91 at the PSU Library in Scranton on their computers):

Donald and I drove up on Sunday morning. I got up at about 5 A. M. and went up and made sure that the birds were OK and then opened up the door between the milk-house and the outer area so that the birds could have the free run of the entire in-the-coop area during the day. I also removed the curtain from the south front of the outer area so that as much sun as possible would pour in all day long. It was cold. Probably below the freezing point but not that much. Dad, of course, was up at 5 A.M. He gave us some apples and fig newtons for the ride and wished us well and away we three went. DWP II more or less half woke up for the trip from his bed to the car and ultimately decided to lay down on the floor in the back seat. The trip up was easy. I did not take the back roads as Dad and Joe Pascoe had suggested. At 5 A.M. it is best to stay on the major highways: one can make better time and there is less chance of deer running into your path. At 8 A.M., near Oneonta, we stopped at a McDonald's and had breakfast and made it to the Cobleskill Fairgrounds in plenty of time to coop in comfortably.

Many familiar faces about, including that of George Schroeder, Jerry Yeaw, the Waldaus, Dick Park, John Hayes, Art Schallenberg and others. The quality of the birds in the show was good, and I sensed that the competition would be first rate although I was not at all intimidated by the prospect of "a good fight," as it were.

Several things about the show were peculiar. The birds were not, first of all, all cooped according to classes, which is extremely odd. Some of the English class were here and some were there and some were in the next aisle. The same was true for most of the classes, especially in the standard birds. The bantams were largely where they should have been. How is a judge to pick "class champion" if all of the birds in that class are not exhibited together. It can be done, of course, but it is not easy and not equitable in most instances. The peculiar cooping bothered me very much all day. As it turns out, the judges did not pick class champions for all the classes, which is very odd. And it also appeared that more than one judge did many of the classes! When the judges were picking the Continental Class Champion, DWP and I observed something very startling and upsetting.

Ralph Beamer and Ernie Durb were looking over the largest group of Continental birds (some Polish and some beautiful Silver-Spangled Hamburgs) and Durb said to Beamer: "Is this it (referring to the birds that they were standing in front of) for the Continentals?" Beamer replied: "There's a pair of Golden Campines farther up the aisle." And then Durb replied: "They won't be anything. It would be hard to beat these Hamburgs." I thought I would scream! Perhaps I should have. Without having looked at the Golden Campines (which happen to be a pair of very beautiful Golden Campines that I raised this year) they were eliminated from the competition for Continental class champion! As I type these lines I am again getting very angry and upset. I still have not determined the best course of action to take. Shall I write directly to Durb and confront him with this appalling behavior on his part? Shall I write to Ralph and Lillian Morey and explain what happened? Durb is a very popular judge and he is judging everywhere these days. If I do too much squawking, he will be vindictive and I will have to suffer the consequences. Is discretion the better part of valor? Another judging matter that made me furious was the judging of the American Game Bantams. I am sure that they were "judged" without the judge in question having gone anywhere near the cages where the birds were housed. There were only four American Games: an old pair, shown by Palan Miller, R. R. 1, Box 153, Ancram, NY 12502; and my two pullets. And so, it was not necessary for the judge to examine the birds to determine which bird was first cock and which one was first hen and also to mark first pullet and second pullet on my two birds. I quietly went to the officials' table at the show and reported that the judges appeared to be picking Game Bantam champions and they had not yet judged the American Games! The officials appeared to be appropriately shocked and that was my intent in asking the question as I did as I knew for certain that the judges were simply cutting corners and did not examine the birds that they did not have to. Most appalling. Not long after the judging began, Lillian Morey came to me and asked me if I would write up the show as I did last year. "Do your write up and when you get it done send your material to me and I will put the show report with it and send it in to Poultry Press," said she in a very down-the-nose manner. My immediate reaction was to tell her to go to hell. Again, I remained silent.

Another peculiar event was the judging of the Old English and Modern Game bantams. There was a very club-house/in group clutch of judges and exhibitors in the Game aisle and everyone else was more or less excluded from the event. Many people had the impression that politics was the name of the game in the judging of the Games and not long after the Games were judged, many angry and disgusted exhibitors removed their birds from the cages and went home! Hardly an auspicious beginning to the day. In addition, the judges took forever in judging what was not an extremely large show. They did one or two breeds in a given class and then disappeared for several hours at a time. Two judges (Durb and Beamer) were listed in the show catalogue and there were at least four judges at work at times! Who were the other two? One of them was Ralph Morey, the president of the Eastern New York State Poultry Association. One can understand how he would want to "judge a few." Understandable, yes, but not exactly correct procedure. The other man, a peculiar quiet little fellow, did a lot of the judging. I remember seeing him judge the standard Brahmas. The Trio Classic was set up in an adjacent building with the waterfowl and was very much off the beaten path and therefore ignored by most people. I don't think that most people even knew that the Trio Classic was taking place.

In spite of all the preceding, my very beautiful Partridge Plymouth Rock hen was named RESERVE GRAND CHAMPION LARGE FOWL of the show (trophy and money)! I am delighted. That earns me five more Master Exhibitor points, which pleases me enormously. The same bird also won the trophy (and money) for the Champion Standard Plymouth Rock of the show. One of my birds won the Plymouth Rock trophy last year as well. My White Orpington hen was named Best Orpington (there were some Blues and some Buffs shown by someone else).

Another judging peculiarity: Art Schallenberg also did some judging of the show. I believe that he judged a good portion of the standard birds. I think the Cobleskill show this year was the worst run poultry show that I have ever attended.

As I mentioned above, Palan Miller from Ancram, NY, also showed some American Game Bantams. Nice to see someone else showing birds. I must write him a letter about American Games.

An especially bright spot on the horizon is Merritt (Mickey) E. Belle Isle, Jr. from Needham, MA. Young, energetic, outgoing and friendly. He appears to be very interested in Partridge Cochins and standard Modern Games, which he got through John Rebhan. He showed a Silver Duckwing Modern Game standard bird! John Rebhan also showed some standard Modern Games. Brian Knox, South Sugar Hill Road, Weare, NH 03281 showed some dazzlingly beautiful standard Silver-Spangled Hamburgs and some beautiful Single Comb and Rose Comb standard Anconas. Ed Martin, 16 Market Street, Rotterdam Junction, NY 12150 showed some very mediocre standard Blue Orpingtons. Several exhibitors showed bantam Self Blue Old English Games: Bob Allison, Central Bridge, NY 12035 had the Best of Variety; William Post (New Berlin, NY) and Lillian Morey (Sherburne, NY) also showed Self Blue Old English Games.

It was nice seeing George Schroeder at the show. He showed two of his very beautiful Black Cochin bantams and had Champion Bantam of the Show on a Black Cochin pullet. During the awards ceremonies at the end, we sat together and each received two trophies. Very nice. DWP took photos of us.

I took several chances on bags of feed in the Chinese Auction and won a 50-pound bag of scratch grains. Not bad: I took two dollars' worth of chances and won about five dollars' worth of feed.

DWP I and II both helped in the cooping in of the birds and at the end of the day. All eyes were on DWP II as he carried in my two bantam Modern Game hens: little boy carrying little birds. DWP, of course, was a great help in the cooping in, as there is always much to get done in a very limited amount of time. I always worry that someone is going to steal my birds at the end of the day during the awards ceremony when all eyes are focused on trophies and such and not on the coops. It would be all too easy for someone to steal birds at that time and it does on occasion happen, especially the champion birds.

Dear Robert:

We were very happy finally to get news from you. When I returned home from Florida and California, I was suddenly engulfed by the usual beginning-of-the-semester activities and couldn't find time to contact you.

Needless to say, I'll write immediately to Dr. Cote at Penn State and also send a copy of this letter to Penn State's placement office, addressed "To Whom it may concern."

Definitely pursue the Juniata and Alfred situations actively, as well as anything new that will be listed in the MLA Job lists and the Chronicle for Higher Education. Also, please do not hesitate to ask me for other letters or to make phone calls in your behalf. I'd like nothing better than to see you well placed, once and for all.

This has been a very stressful and hectic year. I'm going to try to get a sabbatical for all or part of next year before I burn out. I have almost completed my Elie Wiesel book and am eagerly embarking upon a new one on Claude Roy.

Here are last year's evaluations. They look quite good, except for the sections that, in my view, are not relevant to language teaching. Actually no one in our department did sensationally well in this Idea Report, and I'm convinced that the forms are irrelevant for foreign language instruction.

Keep us posted on your development. Best regards from everyone here!

Cordially,

Jack Kolbert

PART I

ESSAY QUESTIONS:

A: Answer the following two questions. (30 minutes)

1. Define the Aristotelian concept of the Mean. Include in your definition a discussion of "deficiency and excess," "pleasure and pain." What are three practical rules for good conduct set forth by Aristotle that will help one arrive at the Mean?
 2. Describe the process, as outlined by Socrates in THE SYMPOSIUM, by means of which one is led to contemplate absolute beauty.

B: Answer no less than two of the following seven questions:

1. How, according to Ecclesiastes, is one to live one's life. Compare this point of view with that set forth by Aristotle in ETHICS.
2. How does Aristotle characterize and define "contemplation."
3. Explain why Aristotle characterizes ETHICS as a work of practical (not theoretical) science. What constitutes a virtuous act according to Aristotle?
4. Compare the notion of "the Good" as established by Plato in his "Theory of Forms" (THE SYMPOSIUM, THE REPUBLIC) with the same notion as defined by Aristotle (ETHICS).
5. Describe the fictional form and technique used by Plato in THE SYMPOSIUM.
6. Outline the point of view of one of the principal speakers in THE SYMPOSIUM of Plato and relate that point of view to the thesis of THE SYMPOSIUM as a whole.
7. It has been said that the speech that Plato assigns to Aristophanes in THE SYMPOSIUM "constitutes almost the most brilliant of all his achievements as a literary artist." What are some of the qualities of that speech that cause it to be so highly regarded?

PART II

NAME THE TEXTS FROM WHICH 15 OF THE FOLLOWING 20 CITATIONS HAVE BEEN TAKEN. IDENTIFY THE SPEAKER AND THE PERSON(S) TO WHOM HIS REMARKS ARE ADDRESSED. (15 minutes)

1. A generation goes, a generation comes, yet the earth stands firm for ever. The sun rises, the sun sets; then to its place it speeds and there it rises. Southward goes the wind, then turns to the north; it turns and turns again; back then to its circling goes the wind. Into the sea all the rivers go, and yet the sea is never filled, and still to their goal the rivers go. All things are wearisome. No man can say that eyes have not had enough of seeing, ears their fill of hearing. What was will be again, what has been done will be done again; and there is nothing new under the sun.

2. ...the conclusion is that the good for man is an activity of soul in accordance with virtue, or if there are more kinds of virtue than one, in accordance with the best and most perfect kind. There is a further qualification: in a complete lifetime. One swallow does not make a summer; neither does one day. Similarly neither can one day, or a brief space of time, make a man blessed and happy.

3. Virtue, then, is of two kinds, intellectual and moral. Intellectual virtue owes both its inception and its growth chiefly to instruction, and for this very reason needs time and experience. Moral goodness, on the other hand, is the result of habit, from which it has actually got its name, being a slight modification of the word ethos.

4. This, then, is my conclusion: the right happiness for men is to eat and drink and be content with all the work he has to do under the sun, during the few days God has given him to live, since this is the lot assigned to him.

5. In the first place, there were three sexes, not, as with us, two, male and female; the third partook of the nature of both the others and has vanished, though its name survives. The hermaphrodite was a distinct sex in form as well as in name, with the characteristics of both male and female, but now the name alone remains, and that solely as a term of abuse.

6. But now I will leave you in peace, and try to give the account of Love which I once heard from a woman of Mantinea, called Diotima.

7. Better a good name than costly oil, the day of death than the day of birth. Better to go to the house of mourning than to the house of feasting; for to this end all men come, let the living take this to heart.

8. One last thing, my son, be warned that writing books involves endless hard work, and that much study wearies the body. To sum up the whole matter: fear God and keep his commandments, since this is the whole duty of man. For God will call all hidden deeds, good or bad, to judgment.

9. 'I've just been looking for you, Apollodorus,' he said; 'I want to know what happened at that party of Agathon's with Socrates and Alcibiades and the others, and what was said on the subject of love. I've already had it from one person, who was told by Phoenix, the son of Philip. He couldn't give me any clear account, but he said that you knew about it too.'

10. To be conscious that we are perceiving or thinking is to be conscious of our existence. To be conscious that one is alive is something pleasant in itself. Life is a desirable thing, especially for the good, because for them existence is good and pleasant. The good man feels towards his friend as he feels towards himself, because his friend is a second self to him.

11. ...whereas they honored Achilles the son of Thetis and despatched him to the Islands of the Blest, because he, when he learnt from his mother that he would die if he killed Hector, but that if he did not kill him he would reach home and die at a good old age, made the heroic choice to go to the rescue of his lover Patroclus and to avenge him, though this involved dying after him as well as for him. He thus earned the extreme admiration of the gods, who treated him with special distinction for showing in this way how highly he valued his lover.

12. For contemplation is both the highest form of activity (since the intellect is the highest thing in us, and the objects that it apprehends are the highest things that can be known), and also it is the most continuous, because we are more capable of continuous contemplation than we are of any practical activity. Also we assume that happiness must contain an admixture of pleasure; now activity in accordance with philosophic wisdom is admittedly the most pleasant of the virtuous activities; at any rate philosophy is held to entail pleasures that are marvellous in purity and permanence; and it stands to reason that those who possess knowledge pass their time more pleasantly than those who are still in pursuit of it.

13. The most skillful doctor is the doctor who can distinguish between noble and base loves in this sphere, and the man who can cause a body to change the latter for the former, and can implant love in a body which lacks but needs it, and remove it where it already exists, will be a good practitioner. He must be able to bring elements in the body which are most hostile to one another into mutual affection and love...

14. 'Good evening, gentlemen. Will you welcome into your company a man who is already drunk, utterly drunk, or shall we just put a garland on Agathon, which is what we came for, and go away? I couldn't be at the celebration yesterday, but I've come now with this wreath to have the pleasure of transferring it from my own head to the head of this paragon of beauty and cleverness. You'll laugh at me, will you, because I'm drunk? Well, you may laugh, but I know that what I say is true. But tell me at once, am I to join your party on the conditions stated? Will you drink with me or not?'

15. 'I propose to praise Socrates, gentlemen, by using similes. He will perhaps think that I mean to make fun of him, but my object in employing them is truth, not ridicule. I declare that he bears a strong resemblance to those figures of Silenus in statuaries' shops, represented holding pipes or flute; they are hollow inside, and when they are taken apart you see that they contain little figures of gods.

16. Since, then, the question of legislation has been left unexamined by previous thinkers, presumably we had better investigate it more closely for ourselves, together with the question of constitutions generally, so that our philosophy of human conduct may be as complete as possible.

17. Since, while the end is an object of wish, the means to it are objects of deliberation and choice, the actions that are related to the means will be performed in accordance with choice and voluntarily. But the exercise of moral virtues is related to means. Therefore virtue lies in our power, and similarly so does vice; because where it is in our power to act, it is also in our power not to act, and where we can refuse we can also comply.

18. The truth of the matter I believe to be this. There is, as I stated at first, no absolute right and wrong in love, but everything depends upon the circumstances; to yield to a bad man in a bad way is wrong; but to yield to a worthy man in a right way is right. The bad man is the common or vulgar lover, who is in love with the body rather than the soul; he is not constant because what he loves is not constant; as soon as the flower of physical beauty, which is what he loves, begins to fade, he is gone "even as a dream," and all his professions and promises are as nothing.

19. So Poverty, thinking to alleviate her wretched condition by bearing a child to Contrivance, lay with him and conceived Love. Since Love was begotten on Aphrodite's birthday, and since he has also an innate passion for the beautiful, and so for the beauty of Aphrodite herself, he became her follower and servant. Again, having Contrivance for his father and Poverty for his mother, he bears the following character. He is always poor, and, far from being sensitive and beautiful, as most people imagine, he is hard and weather-beaten...

20. There is a season for everything, a time for every occupation under heaven: A time for giving birth, a time for dying, a time for planting, a time for uprooting what has been planted. A time for killing, a time for healing; a time for knocking down, a time for building. A time for tears, a time for laughter; a time for mourning, a time for dancing...

PART III

SHORT ANSWER QUESTIONS: Answer no less than 15 of the following 25 questions. (30 minutes)

1. What does "carpe diem" mean?
2. Ecclesiastes is a Greek translation of what Hebrew word? What is the meaning of the word "Ecclesiastes" in English?
3. Who is the probable author of Ecclesiastes? When was the book written?
4. To whom does the author of Ecclesiastes ascribe his book? Why does Ecclesiastes make that ascription?
5. What is the Old Testament? Name the three primary sections of the Old Testament. Situate Ecclesiastes in the Old Testament.
6. Translate into English: "Plus ça change, plus c'est la même chose."
7. "Gather ye rose buds while ye may,/ Old Time is still a-flying:/ And this same flower that smiles to-day,/ To-morrow will be dying...." Who is the author of those lines? In what poem do they appear?
8. "Had we but world enough, and time,/ This coyness, lady, were no crime./ We would sit down and think which way/ To walk, and pass our long love's day;..." Who is the author of those lines? In what poem do they appear?
9. When and where did Plato and Aristotle live and write? When were THE SYMPOSIUM and ETHICS written?
10. Characterize the fictional form of Ecclesiastes.
11. What can be said of the style of Ecclesiastes?
12. Pausanias speaks of heavenly love and of common love in his remarks in THE SYMPOSIUM. There are two kinds of love, says he, because there are two Aphrodites. Who are these two Aphrodites? Who are their parents?
13. What is the profession of Eryximachus?
14. Eryximachus remarks that heavenly love is associated with the heavenly muse and that vulgar or common love is associated with another muse. Who are these two muses?
15. Who were the members of the Sacred Band of Thebes? Which speaker in THE SYMPOSIUM alludes to this group of people?
16. What is a panegyric?
17. What was the Lenaean?
18. To whom does Alcibiades, in THE SYMPOSIUM, compare to Marsyas the satyr? What do we know about Marsyas?

19. Describe the procedures and protocol at either an ancient Greek dinner-party or an ancient Greek drinking-party.
20. Name the six primary speakers at Agathon's drinking-party. What roles do Alcibiades, Apollodorus and Aristodemus play in THE SYMPOSIUM of Plato?
21. Those persons who subscribe to the "ethical relativism" school of thought believe that right and wrong are relative to three factors. What are those three factors?
22. Name at least six of the moral virtues that Aristotle discusses at length in ETHICS.
23. Which of the moral virtues does Aristotle identify as "the sovereign virtue?" Why does he characterize it in that manner?
24. The Aristotelian Mean is as "the right principle dictates." What is that "right principle?" Why are the young less likely to possess that virtue than those who are older?
25. Describe briefly Aristotle's research and writing method.

RE: Humanities 1 (progress report)
DATE: Friday, October 4, 1991

My Humanities class is going beautifully. I am devoting a lot of time and energy to the class and so are the students and we are all learning a great deal. There's nothing quite like a good workout for growth and development! A wonderful side effect of the whole experience is that teaching the course has had an extraordinary tonic-like effect on my critical thinking.

The students took the first hour-exam (copy attached) last night, and a preliminary glance at their bluebooks tells me that they have done very well.

10/6/91 - p. 1

6:25 A.M. — in one of the Montello bedrooms in Penfield, NY.

DWP and I left Carbondale yesterday at about 11 A.M. and drove up to Mumford, NY, via Binghamton, Elmira,
Watkins Glen, Geneva, Canandaigua & over to Mumford. The ride up was easy and enjoyable. The countryside along Seneca Lake from Watkins Glen to Geneva is extraordinarily beautiful, especially the first $\frac{2}{3}$ rd of the way because the Lake is very deeply set down in its massive gorge. No wonder how to live near such a body of water.
With very little difficulty we

located the Tennessee Country Museum and cooped in my birds. The birds were in excellent shape as the day was not intensely sunny or hot and so they did not overheat
in the car. In no time at all they were in the cages and we fed and watered them. Most shows have feed available but Rochester did not. I had to borrow some feed from Dan and Marietta Schuth, who are becoming more and more friendly, which is nice because they are nice people. They are very enthusiastic waterfowl

people. Somehow, I'm not quite^{3.} sure how, I got confused on the opening time that I entered in the show. I was under the impression that I had entered a pair of blacks and the white hen. Alas, no; only the blacks, but I brought along a black hen (#24) and the white hen. Marietta Smith was good enough to change my entry and the official show paper from a pair of standard blacks to: one black hen and one white hen. The black male is moulting very heavily at present or he would have come along as well. Inasmuch as we were among the earliest arrives at the show hall, it was possible to do a little juggling of the coop tags to make sure that my birds all had top cages where they can be seen to their best advantage.

In addition to my show teams,
I brought along 2 cockerels
and 5 pullets from the American Game Bantams for sale. Harry Claus, the President of the Rochester Poultry Association was very gracious in setting me up with a couple sales cages, at $1 per cage. Many of my best show birds are monetizing at present: the Black Modern Game

 hen and the Birchen Modern Game
 hen; #16 the Black orpington hen (who I had to leave home because she is moulted too heavily to show), and others as well. I do have the following birds in the show today that are in superb condition and which may well do very well in the competition:

Partridge Rock cockerel	} both are superb birds & in excellent condition.
Partridge Rock ^{hen} pullet

The hen was the Reserve Grand Champion
 Large Fowl at Cobleskill
 last weekend, and she is a beauty.

This is the first time that I have shown the cockerel and I believe him to be of even better quality than the hen. I am expecting him to win very big today. Champion Large Fowl would not be out of the question. The young pair of standard Golden Campines are also superb, surout the cockerel, and they could win big as well — as could virtually any of the birds I have brought along. A "dark horse" candidate is the old White Orpington hen. She is several years old — maybe even four, and yet she is in good show condition. She is a massive bird but still in shape. She is just now finishing a moult and looks very good. She is a very impressive bird and she shows well most of the time.

One of these days she will be "spotted" by a judge and trotted into the winners' circle. And of course there is the single Comb Black Minorca hen that I have in the show. She has done more winning for me than almost any of my birds. Perhaps she will win again today!

Dear Mr. Steiner,

Thank again for taking the time to evaluate for me the standard Partridge Rock that I showed at Rochester on 10/6. Such evaluations are invariably very useful since, as you know, it is not always easy to look at one's own birds with an objective eye.

The fact that my Partridge Rock Cockerel went on to become Reserve Grand Champion large fowl of the Rochester Show absolutely made my day. I have been working with Partridge Rocks for several years now and the more I work with them the better I like them. As soon as the Fall show season is over, I am going to put my birds in the breeding pen and get going on next year's chicks. My plan at the moment is to raise about 100 and then cull them down to about 10.

Things have been going well for my birds at the shows in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey for the past couple years, and I have decided, with some trepidation, to take the big step and to show some birds
this year at Columbus.

Those will be very busy days-
for you and the other judges, but I'll track you down and say hello.

Sincerely,

Robert Powell

Dear Son & Bob,

It was wonderful
to have you here this past weekend — I hope you'll be back soon and stay a while . . .

(— then again you may still be hiding around in upstate N.Y. trying to get where you're supposed to be . . .)

Did your bird bring back news? The enclosed article was nice coverage —
but the funniest thing happened this morning in Skow-and Tell. ^{you, Bob & that} One of my little girls was showing a pri-marship award she'd gotten yesterday and telling about the wonderful time she'd had at Sen. Country. I asked if she'd visited the poultry land she had. (could even tell about the different birds.

I told her that my cousins were there showing their Col. Sanders contestants and she was VERY impressed.

You must have frozen in Mumford --- it turned bitingly cold and raw by late morning. Thank you Lake Ontario. He left here to visit Sam's dad about 5:00 - if we'd stayed home,
it would have been a fireplace kind of a day.

I'm still wondering whose face will fill our new frame - thank you for a gift you know we'll enjoy. The shell diet will be used often in many ways (martini shells maybe?)

Again - it was a treat to have you. Come back soon and often; you're always welcome. Love to Aunt Helen and Uncle Walter - Lizzie.

Breeders flock to test fowl

By Sean McNamara
 Democrat and Chronicle

Fair was fowl and fowl was fair yesterday at the Genesee Country Museum. Macbeth it wasn't. A poultry contest it was.

Approximately 800 fine-feathered friends vied for top honors in the contest, which was sponsored by the Rochester Poultry and Breeders Association and the Western New York Pheasant and Waterfowl Society as part of the museum's 12th Annual Agricultural Fair.

"We look at the body shape, color and size," said the poultry association's Dan Schuth, who had to nearly shout to be heard over the flock's raucous din of chirps, chuckles, crows and calls inside the Genesee Country Agricultural Society Hall.

Schuth said raising contest-quality birds is no fly-by-night task. It takes careful choices in breeding and gentle handling in raising the birds.

"There's also an artistic skill to it," Schuth said. "You have to have a good eye to be able to see which birds are going to grow up to be competition quality."

Schuth said the judges in poultry contests must go through an elaborate training process before they can rate the birds.

Yesterday's contest drew 86 entries — some from as far away as Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Ohio and Maine.

Most poultry contests are insider events attended only by enthusiasts, Schuth said.

But yesterday's competition was different — the uninitiated mingled with wise-owl old-timers.

"It's nice, because people are seeing this stuff for the first time and they're getting interested," Schuth said.

In addition to the poultry competition, several tents were set up around the museum's "Great Meadow" to house horticulture, livestock and draft horse exhibits.

An antique Frick Co. Eclipse steam tractor, loaned to the museum from the New York Steam Association, powered a corn processor for demonstrations of early 1900s farming techniques.

Several agricultural vendors were set up to sell their wares and produce, which included honey and beeswax, homemade pies, sausages, gourds, pumpkins, jellies and jams.

Museum officials said communities around New York have been holding agricultural fairs, where families gather to exhibit livestock, produce and home products, since the first county fair was held in Cooperstown in 1816.

Dear Ms. Reece,

Thanks for your letter of 9/30/91
about standard Black orpingtons.

At present, I don't have any extra birds for sale. I cull fairly close and I only have my breeders & show birds.

I may have eggs for sale
in the spring. If I do,
I'll contact you.

10/10/91

Dear Liz and Sam,

Thanks again for your generous hospitality during our trip to Rochester (and most of upstate New York) for the Rochester Poetry Fanciers' Show. It was wonderful to arrive at the show on Sunday morning after a good night's sleep and a bountiful Lasagna dinner "with all the fixins", & a hearty "down home" breakfast.

The highly detailed map of Rochester and environs proved to be of great value as we made our way back to Mumford from Buffalo on our way to Mumford from Syracuse!

all things considered, we made good time.

We had a grand day at the poultry show. Four of my birds were in Champions' Row (in which there are only 12 birds;
out of 800+ birds entered),
and one of my birds was named Reserve Grand Champion Standard of the Show!

There is a Spring show at Mumford as well, so don't be surprised if we come "a'callin'"
at that time — maybe even before then.

Sincerely,

S. R. P. — DWP

October 11, 1991

Dear Dr. Sherbine:

Attached is a copy of my letter of September 30, 1991 to Dr. Margaret Cote at University Park about the full-time opening in French for next year at the Beaver Campus. Also attached is a copy of Dr. Cote's letter to me of October 4, 1991, which I received yesterday.

Dr. Cote's letter seems to indicate that the position at the Beaver Campus will be filled through the Department of French at University Park. Whatever the case, a good word from you on my behalf, either at University Park or at the Beaver Campus would be very much appreciated.

As I'm sure you understand, I'm not at all interested in leaving the Scranton area, but I am interested in a full-time position SOMEWHERE in academia.

In the meantime, I am having a wonderful time with Humanities 1. If you are looking for someone to teach one or more sections of Humanities 1 during the Spring semester, I am ready, willing, and (I think) able to do so.

Sincerely,

Robert Powell

Edith Gardner died a year ago today, and, naturally it doesn't seem possible that it has been a year already. In many ways, of course, it seems like it has been much longer. I think about her often--at least once a day, no matter where I am or what I am doing. She clearly and emphatically became a part of my life in the few short years that Donald and I knew her. We have not seen Gertrude much since Edith's death, and probably we won't in the future. Edith was the uniting factor. Requiescat in pace. "Isn't it a caution."

Today is also the deadline for applications for the full-time position in French at the Beaver Campus of Penn State. My application is complete and in place and I should hear from someone about the application before too long. "The review of applications will begin October 15, 1991 and continue until suitable candidates are found," says the announcement of the opening in the September 4, 1991 (p. B19) issue of The Chronicle of Higher Education. On the 11th, I gave Sherbine a copy of my letter to Dr. Margaret Cote of 9/30 and a copy of her letter to me of 10/4. He acknowledged receipt of my note to him in a memo to me of yesterday (which I picked up in my mailbox earlier today). So the application is out of my hands and all I have to do is to wait and see what happens. I hope that Beaver proceeds fairly quickly so that I can take action on other possibilities if the Beaver possibility doesn't materialize. It's pleasant to have the ball in someone else's court, so to speak.

I took the BIG PLUNGE (so to speak) today and mailed in my entry to THE OHIO NATIONAL, sponsored by the Ohio Poultry Breeders Association, to be held on November 9-10, 1991 in Columbus, Ohio. It will be a State meet of the APA. It is the main event of the poultry exhibition year. I have entered twelve birds: seven standards and five bantams. They all are, or will be, in first class condition at the time of the show in November and, naturally, I am optimistic that I will "win big" at the show. Anything is possible. My birds are very high quality birds and they are in good condition and they are just as likely as anyone else's birds to win. DWP will go along.

I also entered the Garden State Poultry Fanciers' Association's fall show on November 16/17 this year. That will be the last show of the year for SRP and, hopefully, after that show I will have accumulated a respectable number of master exhibitor points for the year. I have entered 21 birds: 15 standards and 6 bantams. One of these days I am going to win Grand Champion Large Fowl of the Show. Garden State would be a good time for such a win (says he, modestly).

So the final shows of this calendar year will be:

York County Poultry Fanciers' Association, 10/26-27
Ohio National, 11/9-10
Garden State Poultry Fanciers' Association, 11/16-17

Donald and I drove up to the Rochester Poultry Association's show in Mumford, NY on Saturday, 10/05. I entered 16 birds. We left The Homestead on Saturday at about 11 A.M. and went up Route 81 to Binghamton and then west on Route 17 to Elmira, where we went north up through Watkins Glen and along the very beautiful Seneca Lake to Geneva and then over to Mumford. A very easy and extraordinarily beautiful ride up, especially along Seneca Lake. The highway is up on the mountain along the lake and one looks down on the "finger shaped" lake below. The western slope of the lake is covered with grape vines and grape growing appears to be the major industry of the area. The grapes had all been harvested when we passed through. It must be something when the vines are covered with grapes and the air is perfumed with ripening grapes. We did see some heavily laden plum trees with gorgeous ripe fruit. The day was cool and breezy and it was easy on the birds in the car. We arrived at Mumford at about 3:30 P.M., which allowed us about 90 minutes to coop in the birds--more than enough time. There were not many birds in the cages when we arrived and so we were able to make sure that my birds had cages to show in to their best advantage (which means, of course, that we switched a couple of coop tags here and there to make sure that my birds were positioned to the best advantage). After the birds were in their cages, we headed for Cousin Liz's house in Penfield. We made it to Penfield very easily but at that point it got dark and we had a great deal of difficulty finding the Montello residence. Peg's directions were much too vague and imprecise. In the dark we could not find the much-too-small street signs in the area of Liz's house. After about an extra hour of searching, we finally arrived at the Montello house (we called and they gave us more directions, which, as it turns out, were just about as vague as Peg's. Very maddening. You can not tell someone "to head toward the Lake" if it is dark and you can't see the lake and you don't know where the lake is located. Liz and Sam found it quite amusing that we had difficulty finding their place. DWP and SRP were not amused, not at all.) Liz and Sam were very pleased to see us and they fussed over us a lot. Drinks and then a lasagna dinner with wine. I am so un-accustomed to drinking and eating to that extent late in the evening that I had a very bad night's sleep, and so did DWP. I think we would have been better off staying in a motel. At about 7 A.M. we were up and about and Liz served a bountiful breakfast and we visited for about a hour and then went on our way to Mumford. Liz and Sam were very gracious and pleased to see us and to have overnight guests but the experience was difficult for SRP and DWP. Liz and Sam are so non-three-dimensional and involved in being perfect suburbanites that the overnight stay had the effect of a chance encounter in an airport waiting room or a hotel lobby. The smugness of Sam and Liz was particularly galling. They took too much pleasure in their bourgeois trinkets. Not much depth in their lives to be sure. They both oozed with self-righteousness. Well, so much for them. I shouldn't be so un-grateful for their generous hospitality.

We arrived at the show hall on Sunday morning well before 9 A.M., which allowed me to fuss over the birds briefly before the judging began. They had had a good night's rest in the show cages and were in good condition for the judging.

When all was said and done, my birds were awarded the following prizes:

Champion Modern Game Bantam on a Birchen Hen
Champion English on a White Orpington Hen
Champion Continental on a Golden Campine Cockerel
Reserve Champion English on a Black Orpington Hen
Reserve Champion American on a Partridge Rock Cockerel
RESERVE GRAND CHAMPION LARGE FOWL on the Partridge Rock Cockerel

The Reserve Grand Champion of the Show on the Partridge Rock Cockerel was very unexpected and WONDERFUL. I was not aware that a Reserve class champion was a contender for Reserve Grand Champion of the show. Maybe it is because the Grand Champion of the Show was the American Class champion (the New Hampshire Cock), which then elevates the Reserve American Champion to contender status for the Reserve Champion of the Show. Robert Steiner, who judged the standards and with whom I have had a very interesting and long chat on Partridge Rocks in the course of the day, is the one who caused my Partridge Rock Cockerel to be named Reserve Grand Champion of the Show, I'm sure. After the American Class was judged I spotted Steiner quietly looking at the Chinese Auction birds and I went up to him and asked him if I could ask him a couple of questions about Partridge Rocks. He was DELIGHTED to do so and we went to the Rocks and he took out my very beautiful Partridge Rock Cockerel and we looked him over. A crowd of spectators, mostly people who were visiting the show hall from the Genesee Country Museum fair and fairgrounds, gathered around and Steiner and I had a public conversation on Partridge Rocks. It was wonderful. Apparently Steiner raised Partridge Rocks at one time and he is fond of them. He also admired my Barred Rock pullet and we had her out of the cage for an appreciation session. He is a nice man and I am not saying that because he likes my birds. He is an enthusiastic and at the same time very quiet and reserved man and will judge at the Ohio National. After the show was over I naturally wrote him a letter and thanked him for taking the time to talk with me about Partridge Rocks; I said that I would look for him at the Ohio National, and I will. The Reserve Grand Champion Large Fowl was a very wonderful surprise--and most unexpected. The other major excitement of the day was watching the judging of the Modern Game bantams. There were somewhere between 45 and 50 birds in the class. Back and forth went the judge, and there were about 10 exhibitors who watched with the greatest attention as he judged. My Black hen was named Best of Variety! and then my Birchen hen was named Best of Variety! I could hardly believe my eyes. Then he selected the BV of the BB Reds and the Brown Reds. The four contenders for the BB were then lined up in judging cages. My two hens are both moulting quite heavily and are missing many of their tail feathers, but they are still beautiful. Excellent type above all, and they are very seasoned show birds. The Black hen and one of the Reds were put back in their own cages and the next thing I knew my dear little Birchen hen was named Best of Breed and therefore CHAMPION MODERN GAME BANTAM OF THE SHOW. You could have knocked me over with a feather. It was a grand victory, comparable in every respect to the same win in Modern Games at Twin Tier (where the Black hen won the top place).

There were not a great many birds in the American class and the Continental class and so those two class championships were not as exciting as the Modern Game and the American competitions. During the awards ceremonies at the end of the day, I was awarded an arm-full of trophies and rosettes. Very gratifying. We loaded up the car and were on our way quite quickly after the show and were back in Carbondale by 11 P.M. Donald spent a good portion of the day in the car reading term papers from his classes at Penn State. In the mid-afternoon, we visited the museum "village," which is wonderfully authentic and beautifully layed out. DWP took many photographs for use in his classes and elsewhere. It rained and was quite raw and cold during much of the afternoon.

The Berks County (PA) Poultry Fanciers' Association Show was on 10/13 in Reading. We got up at about 5 A.M. and were on our way by 5:30 A.M. I packed the birds in the car in the late evening before going to bed and we put the car in the garage so that I could leave the trunk opened a crack and not have to worry about predators getting at my birds. It is a very workable system and we shall use it henceforth. The system was first used before the Cobleskill Show, I think. As the poultry exhibition season proceeds one learns how to manage the transportation of the birds and their owner to the advantage of all. The major innovation of the season is that of putting the birds in the trunk and not putting them in boxes. It is much better on the birds: no damaged tail feathers from boxes and cages; the birds can freely interact with each other and are very contented; the hassle of boxes and crates has been done away with; the birds are placed on a thick bed of wood shavings and invariably emerge from the trunk cleaner and in better condition than ever before. I shall use the system from now on. If the birds are loaded into the trunk in the dark (as they most always are), cocks and hens and pullets and cockerels can be put in together and the males will not harrass each other or the hens during the trip. The only trick is getting out the males or any particularly flightly birds the first thing upon arrival.

The trip down to Reading is very easy: down 81 to Frackville and then south on 61 to Pottstown and then 183 south to Reading and the show hall: about 2 1/2 hours I suppose. Again I showed 16 birds (the fall show team for this year) and won the following awards:

Champion Continental on a Golden Campine Cockerel
Reserve Champion American on a White Wyandotte Cockerel
Reserve Champion English on a White Oprington Hen

Three Castlebury plaques. Very nice. But no Master Exhibitor points because there were not 25 birds in the Continental Class. Over and over again I win class championships and because there are not 25 standards (or 50 bantams) in the class, I do not get the Master Exhibitor points. I would imagine that I have "lost" no less than 50 Master Exhibitor points this year because there have not been enough birds in the classes in question. Oh well. Had a very nice conversation with Norman Ennis about Partridge Rocks. His Cockerel won the class championship. I congratulated him on his win and he said that he thought that my Cockerel should have won the class championship. I agree with him but did not say so. My Partridge hen was the Reserve of Breed and that was nice. Norman Ennis: "Your hen is the one that really should have won. If it were not for her being stuck down in a cage on the floor where the judges can not see her, she would have probably won big." Yes, I think so. That's why it is important to get to the show hall early and to make sure that one's best birds get the best cages. The cage can make the difference, especially when the birds are double tiered or (worse) triple tiered.

Many people told me that they thought that my Partridge Rock Cockerel should have been the class champion. The White Orpington hen, bless her heart, was named Reserve Champion English. She is a very high quality bird in good condition, but she is quite old and does not have much sparkle to her. But she does have massive size and presence and that carried the day. The White Wyandotte Cockerel, on his first showing, was named Reserve Champion American, and he attracted a great deal of attention, which pleased me very much. He is in the final stages of moulting at present and will only get better as the season progresses. The Modern Game Hens did not place well because they are moulting too heavily at present. The Black Wyandotte Cockerel was named Best of Variety and somebody wanted to buy him from me but he is not, of course, for sale. His mate is now laying eggs and I will make every effort to raise a round of young from them this Fall, if possible. "Madame Minorca," seasoned show bird that she is, did not place in the winner's circle in the Mediterranean class. There were about 20 Leghorns and some very beautiful Single Comb Browns were awarded the ribbons. No matter. She has had many triumphs in the show ring and she will have many more. Today was not her day. I had the four Cuckoo Belgians (old pair and two pullets) in a sales cage and sold them all to the young Stoneback guy for $35.00. I recognize him but I do not know his name. All in all it was a very good day. As we were putting the birds in the car at the end of the day, one of the Golden Campine pullets got out of the trunk and there were about a dozen other exhibitors who helped DWP and I catch the dear thing. She did not make it easy for us and we spent about 10 minutes catching her. I was pleased that my Golden Campines beat Dale Godwin's Hamburgs. The Golden Campine Cockerel seemed to have "a bug" throughout much of the day. He was not himself. His droppings were cherry red and he was acting very peculiar. He also lost one of his main tail feathers in the course of the day. I don't understand it. I thought that he might have some very serious internal problem but today (10/15) he appears to be perfectly normal. He is diminished by the loss of the one main tail feather but not diminished to the extent that he can not be shown. I don't know what his problem was/is. Maybe someone fed him something peculiar at the show hall. Such things do happen.

Jerry Yeaw judged the Modern Game Bantams and I do not like the way he did it. He crowded them too much and would not give them sufficient room to breathe in and to show in. The birds that won are owned by the Kanes of West Virginia and are not attractive birds. They appear more like reptiles than birds. The Kanes feed them raw hamburger and the birds look and smell like raw meat. Their feather condition is not good and they are too un-bird like for my tastes.

Dr. Leroy T. Hopkins
Search Committee Chair
Department of Foreign Languages
Millersville University
Millersville, PA 17551

Dear Dr. Hopkins:

I would like to present my candidacy for the full-time, tenure track position in French at Millersville University, beginning with the academic year 1992-1993. A copy of my current resume is enclosed. My complete placement credentials are on file at the Career Development and Placement Center at Penn State and I have today requested that Ms. Linda [redacted] in that office send a copy of my placement credential to

During the academic year 1990-1991, I taught in the Department of Modern Language at Susquehanna University as a Visiting Assistant Professor of French. During the Spring semester, I taught three courses: elementary French, advanced French composition and conversation, and nineteenth-century French literature.

Together with Dr. Jack Kolbert, the Chair of the Department of Modern Languages at Susquehanna University, I was directly involved in the many activities of the Department in the following ways:

- participated in meetings on the use of placement and proficiency exams;
- administered comprehensive exams to graduating seniors to certify them as graduates in French;
- served as faculty advisor to the French Club;
- led a group of students from the French Club on a bus trip to New York City to view the Fauve Show at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, to have dinner in a French restaurant, and to attend a performance of Les Femmes Savantes;
- participated in the initiation ceremonies of Pi Delta Phi (National French Honor Society) and Phi Sigma Iota (National Romance Language Honor Society);
- served as the faculty representative in French to the weekly "French Language Table" in the student dining hall.

During my very busy and immensely rewarding term of service at Susquehanna University, Professor Kolbert observed me teaching and a letter of recommendation from Professor Kolbert is included in my placement credentials. In that letter, Professor Kolbert, I believe, reports not only on the quality of my teaching but also on the strength of my commitment to and enthusiasm for undergraduate education.

Currently I am teaching Humanities, as an adjunct member of the faculty at the Worthington Scranton Campus of Penn State. To have been given the opportunity to teach undergraduate courses in the Humanities, which I have long wanted to do, has had an extraordinary tonic-like effect on my critical thinking. At the same time, it presents exciting new challenges to familiar pedagogical methods because I am, as it were, teaching outside of my field of specialization. At present, my students and I, with shirt sleeves rolled up to the elbows, are probing the heights and depths of the Bible, Plato, Aristotle, Virgil, Dante, Shakespeare, Camus and Sartre, among others. It's a wonderful experience for me and I am confident that at the end of the semester the students will all agree that the journey has been very worthwhile.

I look forward to hearing from you in regard to the full-time position in French at Millersville University, beginning with the academic year 1992-1993.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Ms. Fisher:

I am applying for a full-time position in French at Millersville University and would like you to send a copy of my placement folder to the following person:

Dr. Leroy T. Hopkins

10/23/91 - Forest city

My 4th day as a sub. here this year;
no problems, of course, all day. The kids are all very well behaved.

It appears that I will not be teaching at PSU: Swanton next semester — the schedule for next semester came out yesterday a Monday
and there are no un-claimed sections of Humanities & none of French. No matter. The important thing is that I am at PSU this semester and am teaching at the college level. No gaps in my teaching career. I can write for and apply for jobs and state (on PSU stationery) that I am currently teaching at PSU in the College of Liberal Arts. In the next six weeks or so I Should be able to apply for several more jobs and do so officially as an adjunct member of the faculty at Penn State - and that should carry considerable weight. Currently I have applications pending at:

very real possibilities	PSU - Beaver campus Millersville University Alfred University Juniata College
doubtful long shots at best	Luzerne County Community College East Stroudsburg University

Finished Teaching Virgil's Aeneid last night at Penn State. It is a completely stupefying / wonderful / overwhelming book — Certainly one of the top five best books that I have ever read, and I'm sure that I have read several thousand to date. Thursday night we begin the Divine Comedy of Dante, which I have never read.

The York Poetry Show is this coming weekend and my birds are not in tip top shape for the event: a couple have colds,
and three of them are mouthing heavily. Nevertheless, the show will go on and I will coop them in at York by 9 AM on Saturday morning.
The question is: when will I 1650

leave for the show, early on Friday
so that I can get them in the show cages on Friday night or will I leave after midnight

on Friday night & get there (Ynkc) at dawn or earlier. I am inclined to think that I will leave after midnight

since I will stay over on Saturday night and I want to be able to feed the home team for Saturday before I leave for Ynkc.

DWP 1 & 2 will join me in Ynkc on Saturday afternoon
after they spend the day at an antique show/sale in

Allentown (?); PAP 2 will return directly to Quakertown on Sunday from York.

I am troubled by the fact that some of the show team are under the weather or moulting; all well be well by the time of Columbus & Garden State. I am always bothered when the birds get colder and always very relieved when they are completely recovered.

I winterized the hen house on Monday and so I am all set even for the worst weather.

The Black Wyandotte bantam hen has started to lay and I am currently saving her eggs for 1652

incubation. It would be lovely if she (or another hen) would decide to set now. Number 12
Black Orpington would be ideal -
she could cover about 20 Wyandotte bantam eggs and successfully raise that many chicks even in the dead of winter. The old Silver-faced Wyandotte hen would be a good one to have set as well, but any hen will do at this point as I don't want to wait too long before putting the eggs I now have saved to incubation.

10/26/91 - Ecorse Lodge, Ynk

Here are the SRP results: ^{no trophy} but $10 cash.

- ✓ Champion American: Partridge Plymouth Rock hen
- ✓ Reserve American: Partridge Plymouth Rock cockerel
- ✓ Reserve Continental: Golden Campine
Cockerel

Not bad by any means; but there are not 25 birds in the American class and so I will not get any Master Exhibitor points for the Champion American win. It makes me angry in many respects. I want to go home and raise only American class birds and then enter 20 birds in the American class at every show next year. If one has to provide me's own competition, so be it. The winners of the six APTA classes are as follows:

American - SRP's Partridge Rock hen

Asiatic - a Dark Brahma female

English - a Buff Orpington female (of poor quality)

Mediterranean - a White Leghorn female

Continental - a Buff Laced Polish female

AOSB - a Blue Red Old English Game female

→ six hens (maybe a pullet or two);

very unusual; from those six

birds a Champion Large Fowl & a Reserve Champion Large Fowl will be selected. I think that means that my chances are 1 to 3 that

I will have either Champion Large Fowl or Reserve Champion Large Fowl. Fairly good odds to be sure. The Champion American award merits a cash prize of $10; Reserve American & Reserve Continental will each be awarded a Rosette.

Both Modern Game have been placed out of the winners, which is not too surprising since they are not in full feather.

The Black Wyandotte Game Cockerel was named ^{BV+} Reserve of Breed — with no less than 30 bantam Wyandottes in the show.

10/27/91 — the Dark Brahma and the Blue Red O.E. Game were the large fowl champions. So, it was "Close,"

but no cigar" for SRP. Disappointing, but what can you do, soon win next time.

DAP 182 + I were driving out of the York Fairgrounds by about noon. They on their way to Quakeitown + SRP back to 18407. Arnold and I cooped out very efficiently and quickly following the awards ceremony. I arrived home in time to let the birds out and let them have a good run before withdrawing for the evening. All was well with the home team. Still no sign of the new Birchen Modern Game hen. She has vanished. I have looked everywhere in the 1659 event that she has slipped down behind something and is caught. No sight of her. It seems so very unlikely that she wandered off somewhere. Possibly she was carried off by a bird of prey but that also seems very unlikely as most of them have already migrated. Had a cat get her? Hard to say. I saw her on Thursday night. In fact, I put her on the perch in the milkhouse. I don't remember seeing her on Friday. DWP looked around for her on Saturday before he set out for Allentown. Very strange.

Now that I think about it, I do remember hearing quite a - 1660

commotion up at the barn on ^{6.}
Friday afternoon, late, as I planted
the recently-arrived bulbs from Van Bourgondien. A hawk could have easily snatched her up. I will continue to search about the barn tomorrow.

The number of birds ^{about 750} at York was down this year, quite a bit, apparently. I learned that there used to be several thousand birds at the annual York show. That would have been something to see.

We three spent a pleasant evening
at the Econolodge at York —

we rested and then had something to eat at the Hardee's nearby & then watched Television for much of the evening, including a filmed biography of Caruso, which was interesting. DWP II had a grand time jumping about the two very large beds.

If my Partridge Rock cockerel had been named Best of Breed (as I think he should have) & then Champion American, I think he would have gone on to win Reserve Champion Standard of the Show. at this point it's all very idle speculation.

No Columbus Snow in nest - in two weeks. Some of my 11662

entries will still not be in full ^{8.}
feather but most of them will.

The two Modern Game hens should be beautiful by then as shown the 4 Plymouth Rocks, the Self Blue O. E. Game bantam & the

B. B. R. American Game bantam pullet that I take, and the Black Wyandotte bantam cockerel.

That's 9 out of 12: the ^{standard} ^{Minnesota}
hen & the std. white Wyandotte cockerel may be ready; I'm not even guessing on the Black Springer pullet. Nothing

for sure: some will be in perfect show condition (most of them)
and some will not.

I have entered 21 birds in the Garden State show on 11/16-17; it will be the same story for that show - most will be in beautiful condition; some will not. What I should do is find a couple January - February shows - maybe the Springfield, MA show on January 18-19, 1992 (!) - that would be interesting. I will request a couple of likely premiums lists. I know that there is a big show in Boston in the winter.

The "rage to show" is upon me and I am not interested in putting a soft pedal on that impulse.

Muffler Guarantee

This muffler is guaranteed to the original purchaser, as long as said purchaser owns the vehicle on which it was installed

Because it is made with superior materials and workmanship, your muffler is unconditionally guaranteed against defects for as long as the purchaser owns the vehicle on which it was originally installed. In the event the muffler fails to function satisfactorily, due to defective materials or workmanship, the corporation does herein guarantee to replace the same free of charge, upon presentation of guarantee and proof of purchase.

This guarantee is made for the exclusive benefit of the purchaser herein and is not assignable. All replacements must be made at Monroe Muffler/Brake. If said muffler becomes defective, and you are more than 50 miles from a Monroe Muffler/Brake location (listed on the reverse of this document), you may have the muffler replaced at any service establishment of your choice. Return the bill and the defective muffler with this guarantee to your Monroe Muffler/Brake store for a refund. In the event a muffler is replaced at other than Monroe Muffler/Brake, the refund shall not exceed by more than 10% the muffler's original purchase price.

This guarantee is void if vehicle is used for any commercial purpose.

CARBONDALE, PENNSYLVANIA 18407

October 17, 1991

S. Robert Howell
Box 40, R. D. #1

Dear Robert,

It is with great pleasure that I inform you of your election to the Board of Directors of the Carbondale Public Library.

We shall look forward to having you present at our regular monthly meetings, the third Tuesday of each month.

Some of the items presently before the board will interest you.

1. We are taking good progress in our effort to provide the community with a new library.
2. Mr. J. J. Pierce, consultant, from Penn. State has visited our Library and the Ruby Ford Building. Along with Dan Muldoon and Sally Felix he has developed floor plans for the Ruby Ford Building.
3. Mr. Pierce will now develop a written program statement to accompany the floor plan.
4. Don Horlock, Architect will take the floor plan of Mr. Pierce and develop a building design to include the necessary engineering work.
5. Sally Felix will submit a grant application for the Carbondale Public Library.
6. A building appraisal has been arranged for October so we can get a Market Value for the Ruby Ford Building and our current library.
7. When the appraisal is complete we will begin negotiating with the Sengert family.

You will recognize a full agenda in our effort to bring a new library to our community. We deserve it!

We look forward to seeing you and working with you again.

Sincerely yours,

Katherine Kave

Mr. Donald Aungst
Treasurer
Susquehanna University
Selinsgrove, PA 17870

Dear Mr. Aungst:

During the academic year 1990-1991, I served as a Visiting Assistant Professor of French in the Department of Modern Languages at Susquehanna University.

At the conclusion of the academic year 1990-1991, my services to Susquehanna University came to an end.

It has come to my attention, today, that I am still on the payroll of Susquehanna University. Am I to regard these additional funds that have been deposited in my checking account as severance pay? Have funds been deposited in my account by mistake?

Please review your records and, in the event that these funds have been paid to me in error, kindly advise me of the amount that I am to reimburse Susquehanna University.

Sincerely yours,

10/26/91 - 8 P.M.

Devoted much of the day to the birds: preparing the "show team" for the York show tomorrow and Sunday. I will not be able to take my prize winning S.C. Black Minorca hen because she is moulting too heavily. But the rest of the birds that I entered - weeks ago - will go. Many of them are in top show condition; some of them are just about back into show condition and they will be fine for the Columbus show on 11/9-10. - most noticeably the two Modern Game bantam hens. I will take 11 standards and 7 bantams: total of 18 birds. The plan is that I will go up and pack the birds in the car in about an hour - and then feed the home team extra well for tomorrow and Sunday;

I will then clean myself up and pack up my kit bag and go to bed for a few hours. By about 3 A.M. I expect to be on the road, which should get me to York in plenty of time to crop-in comfortably by 9 A.M. The York fairgrounds are 185 miles from Elkdale, which means that I should be able to get there in about 3½ hours. Judging starts at 9 A.M. I am planning on a big win this weekend. Many of my birds could easily take top honors in their class, which would be grand. Anything beyond Class Champions is "extra topping
on the cake", so to speak.

HUMANITIES 1: Dr. S. Robert Powell
Fall Semester 1991: PSU: Worthington Scranton Campus

THE AENEID

ANTHROPOMORPHISM: to describe or think of as having human form or human attributes; ascribing human characteristics to nonhuman things.

PERSONIFICATION: representation of a thing or abstraction as a person or by human form; representation of an inanimate object or abstract idea as a personality or as endowed with personal attributes.

EPITHET: a characterizing word or phrase accompanying or occurring in place of a person or thing; an adjective expressing some quality, attribute or relation regarded as properly or specially appropriate to a person or thing..

METAPHOR: a word or phrase literally denoting one kind of object or idea is used in place of another to suggest a likeness or analogy between them. A metaphor may be regarded as a compressed simile.

SIMILE: a figure of speech by which one thing, action or relation is likened or explicitly compared in one or more aspects (often with "as" or "like") to something of different kind or quality.

ANTITHESIS: the rhetorical contrast of ideas by means of parallel arrangement of words, clauses, sentences; an opposition or contrast of ideas.

METONYMY: the use of a name for another when the two are tied together in a logical and close way, for example, the cause for the effect, the author for the work, the container for the contents; to use the name of one thing for that of another of which it is an attribute.

APDSTROPHE: to speak to real or imaginary beings; to speak to an absent person or a personified thing rhetorically.

ALLEGORY: a metaphor or symbol erected into a system; the expression by means of symbolic and fictional figures and actions of truths or generalizations about human existence.

PROVERB: A profound or oracular maxim; a brief epigrammatic saying that is a popular by-word; an adage, as proverbs are the wisdom of the streets.

RHETORICAL QUESTION: a question not intended to elicit an answer, but inserted for rhetorical effect.

RHETORIC: The art of expressive speech or of discourse. Originally, as cultivated by the Greeks, the study of the principles and technical resources of oratory, including both composition and delivery. Its development by the sophists and other political and professional orators made it regarded chiefly as the art of persuasion. In schools and colleges, rhetoric is the study of the principles and rules of composition formulated by ancient critics, as Aristotle and Quintilian, and interpreted by classical scholars for application to discourse in the vernacular. Rhetoric is the skillful or artistic use of speech. It can also mean artificial elegance of language or declamation without conviction or earnest feeling.

Some questions to think about in relation to Virgil's AENEID:

1. Characterize and describe the language of THE AENEID.
2. To what extent are the characters in THE AENEID free agents. What role does fate play in THE AENEID? What about Jupiter? the lesser gods (Juno, Venus, Mercury, Vulcan, Neptune)?
3. It has been said that THE AENEID shows the way that things happen in the world. Illustrate and defend that point of view.
4. THE AENEID strongly and frequently confirms two important rules of conduct: one principally Greek ("Avoid excess"; beware of ungovernable or destructive passions such as rage, desire, blood lust) and the other principally Roman ("Be true, that is, loyal to the gods, to the homeland, and to family, friends and dependants.") Using examples from the text, illustrate "Greek" conduct and "Roman" conduct in THE AENEID.
5. Characterize and describe the narrative technique used by the "narrators" in THE AENEID. Name at least five narrators in the book.
6. Characterize and describe the fictional technique used by Virgil in writing THE AENEID.
7. To what extent is the structure of THE AENEID dramatic?
8. Characterize and describe the similes used by Virgil in THE AENEID.
9. What are some of the lessons that we can learn from THE AENEID as to how to live our lives?
10. The first paragraph of THE AENEID is a summary/plot outline of the entire story (in many respects a remoulding of Homeric materials) that Virgil is about to relate. Why does Virgil tell us how the story will end, so to speak, in the first paragraph of the book?
11. THE AENEID is an epic poem, written in Latin, consisting of 12 books of verse in hexameters. Characterize and describe an epic poem.

12. Why is it possible to regard the funeral games (Book 5) conducted under the direction of Aeneas on the anniversary of the death of his father, Anchises, as an allegory of life?
13. Summarize and describe the events that led up to the Trojan War.
14. In 100 words or less, give a plot outline of THE AENEID.
15. What is a hero? Why is Aeneas a hero?
16. Female versus female: the role of Venus and Juno in THE AENEID.
17. Who are the Muses? What role do they (Calliope, Erato, for example) play in THE AENEID?
18. In the world posited by Virgil in THE AENEID, even inanimate/physical objects serve a narrative function in that they serve as recording structures. Identify at least three such recording structures and give a brief summary of the narrative material presented on them. (Aeneas' shield, p. 220; the Temple of Juno at Carthage, p. 41; the silver plate, p. 47).
19. What is a harpy?
20. Situate on the map the ancient cities of Troy and Carthage.
21. Name the three primary books written by Virgil and give the date of writing of each. (ECLOGUES, 37 BC; GEORGICS, 30 BC; THE AENEID, 30-19 BC).
22. Date of the Trojan War: 1193-1184 BC.
23. Virgil's given name: Publius Vergilius Maro, born 70 BC, died 19 BC.
24. Who was the Emperor Augustus? When did he reign? What role did he play in the life of Virgil?
25. Comment on the qualities of Virgil as a narrator in THE AENEID.

26. One of the reasons why THE AENEID has a significant impact on the reader is the result of the high degree of psychological verisimilitude in the text. How does Virgil establish that verisimilitude?

27. The legend of Aeneas' journey from Troy to Latium and of his settlement there, marriage with the Latian princess Lavinia, and warfare with the neighboring inhabitants are described in several texts of the Augustan age (Roman Antiquities of Dionysius of Halicarnassus; an account in Livy; the Servian commentary on THE AENEID; an account in Strabo's Geography; among others). And yet one rarely reads those texts. One reads Virgil. Why is that the case?

28. In the polytheistic world of THE AENEID, powerful and willfull gods, motivated by love, hate, status, etc., interact with and have an impact on the lives of Aeneas and the other "humans" in the text. To what extent is there justice in this polytheistic world?

29. Consider the following sentences from THE AENEID:

Loud was the weeping...p. 143
Loud was the cheering... p. 134
Great was the throng... p. 83
Golden was her quiver... p. 101
Golden was her hair... p. 221

What is the effect on the reader of those sentences, in which "normal" grammatical structures are modified by Virgil?

Historic Photos Subject Of Society Slide Lecture

By GENE BRISLIN
Today's Living Special Writer

IN THIS HI-TECH era of production of photos in vibrant living color, it is amazing to comprehend that pictures were printed in books and newspapers even before the turn of the century!

That thought-provoking, brainstorming idea will be the subject of the Lackawanna Historical Society's exciting illustrated slide lecture Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at its headquarters in Catlin House when Donald Powell, the foremost authority on the East Coast, presents "Photography and History: Plymouth and Scranton," a flashback to the early local professional lensmen.

The program will have as its nucleus two rare books in the Historical Society's collection, "Historical Sketches of Plymouth, Luzerne County," by Hendrick B. Wright, published in 1873, and "Wyoming Valley, Upper Vallies of the Susquehanna and Lackawanna Coal Region" by J.A. Clark, printed in 1875.

Photos for the books were taken by Sedgwick S. Hull and William B. Schurch. Other early lensmen to be discussed are Johnson, Deans, Derman, Kellog, and Eugene Heermans, all of whom worked in Scranton as photographers or studio entrepreneurs on Lackawanna Avenue, spanning the period from 1860 through 1880.

In a telephone interview with the distinguished art historian, Powell explained that the focus will be on the transition between the Daguerreotype (an early method in which pictures were made on silvered metal plates) and the later forms of paper photography, which in laymen's terms means, the concept of printing in half-tones. Illustrations in those days were remarkably clear, with photos being cut out and pasted in the appropriate spots of the book by subscribers who received the printed contents and had to assemble pages and insert photos.

Donald and his identical twin brother, Robert, are Carbondale natives, sons of Walter and Helen Powell, Finch Hill. Their father is the retired entrepreneur of Homestead Golf course in that area. Their lives have naturally paralleled, as twins, and doubly so as identical issues.

These photos by Sedgwick S. Hull, a studio portrait photographer active locally in the late 1860s and 1870s, are among those which Penn State University Art History faculty member Donald W. Powell will discuss in an illustrated slide lecture Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Lackawanna Historical Society.

The erudite educators and researchers are graduates of Pennsylvania State University, Donald with a degree in art history, and Robert who earned his degree in French literature. Each pursued his own academic endeavors, Donald off to study and do research art history in Holland and England for several years, pursuant to his candidacy for his doctor of philosophy degree at Columbia University in New York City. Robert earned his doctorate at Indiana University in Bloomington.

The Powell twins are both members of the faculty at Worthington Scranton Campus of Penn State, Donald as an instructor in art history, and Robert as a teacher of humanities.

Donald also is an instructor of art history at Luzerne County Community college, and Robert is president of the Carbondale Historical Society, an organization in which the entire family is actively involved. The twins, who are the only children of Walter and Helen Powell, are among the esoteric people who are a delight to interview.

Donald's vast collection of rare book-length manuscripts on the infancy of photography is not only overwhelming, but a synthesizing component of his dedicated career as an art historian. Granted that although he and Robert are identical twins, the genes flow in varied directions, but each has dignified respect for each other's pursuits.

Must be because they're Saggitarians with drive, endless energy, wide-eyed interest of an inquisitive child, a strive for perfection, love for travel, and most of all born winners! No wonder Mary Ellen Calemme, director of the Lackawanna Historical Society, and her staff are preparing for an overflow crowd next Wednesday evening!

Dear Mr. Powell,

I was wondering if you had any silver seabright bantams for sale. I'm interested in buying a cockerel and one or two pullets. I will be at the Genesee County Museum on ~~the~~ October 6. I was wondering if you were coming to the show, if you did maybe you could bring a couple extra bantams with you.

I bought a ~~at~~ silver seabright off of you last year at the show. He did really good at some of the shows around ^{the} last year. I had some bad luck with predators in the spring and they got him. So we built new pens for the birds.

Sincerely,
Joseph Goewey

Dear Cheryl —

I'm sure you are having a grand time in your new house. I hope that your neighbor kids didn't give you any trouble on Halloween. As you know, some kids can be very destructive or they have a good time. Every year, when I was living at Elkdale, I had to endure Halloween abuse, as it were.

When you sent me your new address and phone number, you addressed the envelope to me:

S. Robert Powell
RD 1 Box 40
Carbondale NY 16807

It took your Card a couple weeks to arrive here, as Carbondale is not in NY. When I received your card, I couldn't figure out why the Zip code was circled by the Post Office. Eventually I figured it out.

I am teaching one course at Penn State (Scranton campus), which is about 15 miles from here, which means I can live at home.

In many respects, living at home is easy and pleasant. The biggest drawback, of course, is that Donald also lives here and, as you know, he is among the most obnoxious people on the planet. I am continually amazed at just how disagreeable he can be. I will spend the winter here but I have got to get away from him. 1728

The course I am teaching is /Humanities³,
and I am having a grand time.
Enclosed is your very own copy of my syllabus for the course. I think that the Aeneid is one of the 5 best books I have ever read.
I am so excited by the book that I am almost on the point of stopping passers-by and telling them that they should read Virgil. We are reading Inferno now and I think it's very drole. Never did I think that I would be teaching Humanities.

Do you have room around your house for a garden? Flowers would be grand. Given all that you have to do / want to do at your new house (Have you given it a name?), I hope that your responsibilities at work 1129

focus on your house.

I continue to devote a lot of time and energy to my exhibition poultry and the birds have won a large number of impressive trophies there for this show season.

Does the LIRR go to Huntington Station? It would be great fun to see your place. I'll bet your livestock are having a good time
at 7 Dorchester Street.

Next Friday I am going to drive out to Columbus, Ohio to the National Poultry Show.

Driving into Ohio ought to bring back a few memories. It's a ten-day show and I will drive back on Sunday. I will show some of my birds at Columbus, where there will be many thousands of birds in the show. The competition will be intense. Who knows, maybe I will get lucky and win one of the many awards.

Janice Glaser phoned me about a week ago to report on her week-long rendez-vous with Tim (not her husband) on an island off the Pacific Coast of Canada, where Tim's parents live. She is something else.

That's it for now.

Sincerely,
Robert

11-1-91

WBW—

Sony I missed your call on 10/28. I was teaching Dante's Inferno at Penn State at the time of your call. From out of the blue, this course materialized, and I am having a grand time. Virgil's Aeneid is one of the 5 best books that I have ever read. I'm almost at the point of stopping passers-by and telling them to read Virgil. Dante is very drole and I have a good time with ^{poets and} these eager young scholars at Penn State. It's not clear yet whether my services will be required next semester. It would be nice if they were. I can't resist the temptation to include a copy of the syllabus for my Humanities class.

I'll be here in Carbondale for the winter but after that my Champs de bataille / place of operations is unclear. I continue to apply for college jobs. I was turned down / ignored by about 50 colleges in my late-Spring push to get a job for this year — not very good for the ego. Sometimes I am startled / amazed by my tenacity. I am determined to get a tenure-track job in academia. I have about a half dozen "live" applications "out there". Any day now, my boat will come in.

My birds have won many impressive trophies in shows in PA, NY & NJ this Fall. I am going to drive out to Columbus, Ohio on 11/8 and show some birds in the national meet of the American Poultry Association. There will be many thousands of birds. Who knows, maybe luck will shine down upon some (or one) of my birds.

I started up the incubator tonight and with any luck will have some chicks on or about 11/22.

My new goal is to be named a "Master Exhibitor" by the American Poultry Association. It's a complicated process of accumulating points for particular wins, & I am well on my way. In a year or two, I should have enough points.

I trust that you and Christine are well and that life is being good to you.

Sincerely,

SRP

Dear Janie,

The photographs are wonderful.
You all look great. I love all your intense colors: yellow/red/blue/green etc. Did your masai tight frighten the chipmunks of western Canada? The picture of you & Tim in the vaulted interior with palm trees is excellent of both of you.
You both look like you are in your 20's. Tim looks like his father I would say. Tim's parents appear to be gentle people. There aren't enough of them in the world.

Sheryl Grom has just bought a house on Long Island and she is having a grand time settling in and getting organized.

I miss having a place of my own. Living at home can be wonderful but it sure can have its drawbacks.

My parents are very easy to live with; Donald, of course, is always a problem. I'll spend the winter here but I think that will be it. Where I will go in, of course, not clear at this point.

Thanks again for the terrific photographs.

Sincerely,

Robert

11-1-91 - Received a post card from a former student (Christine Moncada), now in France: "... Dimanche je suis allée à Saché, une des maisons de Bobac. J'ai pensé à vous..." What a lovely thing of her to do. She has apparently been in touch with Jack Kolbert as she has my PSU - dress exactly right.

Received my Bloomsburg Fair premium check yesterday - $58.50 - very nice. I had more or less forgotten about it and it came as a pleasant surprise.

Spent several hours at the Historical Society on Wednesday, 11/30/91, and called Hertz Rent-A-Car at the Scranton airport and reserved a car for the trip to Columbus, Ohio

11/8-9-10. 9 week - end special: $20.99/day;
free unlimited mileage, 5% discount
since I am a subscriber to Natural History; I will pick up the mid-sized car on Thursday afternoon or Friday morning, probably Friday morning. Confirmation # 7973 122 D142.
and then head out to office. I think it would be good to leave Carbondale about 10 A.M. on Friday.
The show hall at Columbus will be open until 11 P.M., and so I will be able to get the birds in their cages on Friday night. I'm not sure how long it will take to drive to Columbus, but surely 9 or 10 hours should do it.
DWP plans to go out to office
with me. I have entered 12

birds but I don't think I will be able to take the Minorca hen; she is about half-way through the moult and will not be properly finished off for a couple of weeks. She should be OK for the Garden State show on 11/16-17.

The Black Wyandotte bantam hen is laying fairly well; I think I have about 8 of them ^{eggs} in holding and unless a setter comes forward in the next couple of days, I think I will turn on the incubator. I don't want to risk losing the eggs. Who knows how long she will lay. She may suddenly stop & that will be it for the year.

11/1/91 - 6 P.M.

I have just now decided to start up the incubator and have placed therein 8 Black Wyandotte bantam eggs & the Munroe egg that the new hen laid on the day after I got her, i.e., 10/20/91.

The dates on the Wyandotte eggs are as follows:

10/12	10/24
10/14	10/28
10/18	10/29
10/21	10/30

I like the rapid succession of this series of 3; one can only hope that she will lay many more in the series.

I will collect eggs for about 10

more days and then

if no setter comes forth, I will put them in the incubator as well.

6:30 P.M. - already the temperature has stabilized in the incubator, probably because the incubator was stored at room temperature and there are only 9 eggs in it & they are not that cold. It is very pleasant to have the process again in operation. In many respects, of course, this is the beginning of the march to spring.

"12/91 — A.M. — another black Wyandotte egg, freshly laid, put in the incubator, bringing the total to 9 + 1 Minona egg. If no hen comes forward to set, and some chicks result from these eggs, I will raise them in the cellar & then take them up the coop at about three weeks of age.

11/2/91- 10 A.M.

Columbus, Ohio one week from today. I can hardly wait. Win, lose or draw, the experience will be wonderful. A Best of Breed (or better) would be wonderful, thrilling! I am very pleased to learn that the show building will be open until 11 PM on Friday. It should be relatively easy to get there and get the birds in their cages without any of the "push" that is associated with a middle-of-the-night departure. I don't think I will take along any birds to sell.

The incubator has become a part of the daily routine already. When I listen for it, I hear the heating unit come on every few minutes or so for a minute or so. It is a

comforting sound to the ears of the poultry breeder. The Black Wyandotte bantam hen is now in her nest box laying an egg and as soon as she lays it I will probably bring it right down and put it in the incubator. Maybe not. I am fairly confident that a hen
will set any day now and I do want to be able to give her a suitable nest full of eggs.
We shall see.

Before lunch, I will drive over to Elkdale to make sure that all is well there. I will take down the bluebird houses that I put up and bring them here. Also I will drive to Union Dale and make sure that there is no mail there for me. There shouldn't be.

Dear Shirley,

Thanks for forwarding my mail.
I appreciate it. My current address,
however, is Carbondale (see above) &
not Union Dale.

I'm teaching one course (Humanities)
at Penn State in Scranton and it's wonderful. I am devoting a lot of time and energy to the course and the students are responding well.

But I do miss Susquehanna University a great deal. My time there was very gratifying and enjoyable and I did my job in the most exemplary professional manner.

I should have realized, from day one, that I would never be hired there for the full-time job. Naturally I did my best every day that I was there and all the while I must have appeared fairly ridiculous to such "great minds" as Jeanne Neff and Joel Cunningham who knew, from day one, that I would not be offered the job because of quota requirements. Just thinking about it now causes the emotional wound inflicted on me by Neff & Cunningham to throb with pain once again. It will take years for the wound to heal.

Jack Kalbert, of course, continues to be wonderfully supportive of me in my quest for a full-time job. As you know, he is the life blood of the department and a university treasure. Susquehanna should double his salary.

I hope that things are well with you. Soon it will be snow season again. Maybe this year several feet of snow will fall on Selinsgrove. I know how happy that would make you.

Sincerely,
Robert Powell

plus some wild dogs &/or foxes &/or coyotes

Ebony (one of DWP's dogs) has just rampaged through the hen house and the destruction is devastating. The old Self Blue Old English game cock and one of his sons I found dead on the hillside; Black orpingtons #12 & #13 will probably not live through the night as they have been badly mangled / chewed; the Black Modern Game bantam hen is missing as are:

↑ Champion Bantam
at Bath this year

- #16 Black orpington - the best bird I own

- two Silver-laced Wyandotte cockerels

and I can only know what else.

The old Partridge Rock cock has a very bloodied comb from jumping up and down in his cage as the dog attacked; it's awful. I'm now sure that Ebony killed the Birchen Modern Game hen that I got at the Bloomsbury auction; she simply disappeared from the face of the earth about a week ago. That was probably what whetted the dog's appetite for live flesh. Several times recently Ebony has been loose and running around the yard in the middle of the day - she pulls her head out of her collar. I can never let the chickens out again as long as Ebony is around. It would simply not be safe.

I disowned all the carnage at about 5 P.M. as I went up to Close up the birds for the night;³ at 3:30 P.M. I was up and fed them and all was well; as I was going up at about 5 P.M. I heard a rooster "in panic" and hurried up and saw Ebony come out of the south door. She was very snarly and in a frenzy.

I quickly reconnoitered and then came down & got Donald; Ebony has since disappeared. She has probably gone off to wherever she has carried off to the missing birds. I am numb.
I don't know what to do.

Donald is talking of killing the dog and I have told him not to¹⁷⁵¹
as that would not do any good.
The damage has been done and 4.

it's irreversible. I will have to pick up the pieces and keep going.
There's nothing else to be done. I don't know about the Columbus trip this Friday/Saturday/Sunday.
In many respects, I should try all means make the trip, even though several of my entries
are now either dead, mangled or missing. But at the moment it seems like the last thing I want to do. My four best Black orington females are out of commission ^{or dead.} The old Partridge Rock cock ^{is} all bloodied; the Black orington pullet has been mauled & missing most of her back feathers although she has not, I think, been bitter.

It is a good thing that the roosters were not out in their day pen at the time of the attack or they would have been sitting ducks. There's that to be thankful for. Bury the dead and keep going. What else can you do. How ironic that the incubator should now be working on ^{some of} next year's chicks / show champions.

7:15 P.M. - I am now in a neutral state; I have philosophically accepted the calamity. Emotionally, it has not yet hit me.

9 A.M.

11/5/91 - More is now known about the death and destruction in the hen house. I now believe that Ebony was only involved at the final moments. Several foxes or coyotes must have swept through the area at dusk and did their damage. Ebony heard them and broke loose and joined them - maybe she even scared them away. She then, I think, continued the game - macabre as it was I think it was Ebony that killed the two old English games and the B.B.R. American game hen & probably also #12 & #13 orpingtons and the young Partridge Rock hen. I could sweep now as I describe the melancholy tale. The foxes or coyotes carried off their kill.

Ebony carried off some and "played with" the others. Here is the final tally of the dead or missing:

- Partridge Rock hen
 - # 16 Black orpington hen
 - # 12 " " "
 - # 13 " " "
 - Self Blue O.E. Game cock
 - " " " " " Cockerel
 - Black old English Game hen
 - Silver-Laced Wyandotte Cockerel
 - " " " " "
 - B. B. Red American Game hen

The pain of it all. My two best
Black orpington hen, my best Partridge Rock hen, my best

American Game bantam hen. I am now beyond pain, and now that the dead have been buried, all I can do is carry on and somehow put all this behind me. Focusing on next year's chicks will help a great deal. Also, I discovered this morning that I have to move the two "units" from the hall area into the sick house itself. The hall area does not stay warm enough over night &
it will be too difficult to heat properly. Tomorrow I will move them in — and it will be a major project but not exceptionally different. It's 4.

primarily a manipulation project.
With all the birds inside the milk house, keeping them warm through the winter should not be a problem. The hall area can be a day pen / sun porch and also serve as a mating pen
for the larger birds: Oryington
and Wyandottes and Partridge Rocks. One of these days I will build / have built a poultry
palace that will allow my birds to enjoy the best of everything year round.

COMMENTS:

It doesn't appear that I will have anything for you to teach Spring Semester, but please keep me posted of your whereabouts in the future—in case! For your sake I hope you're out of here by Fall, but if you're not, we may be able to help each other out again.

This is not a surprise; I could see from the Spring schedule that there was nothing. On 12/6/91 (the last day of classes at PSA) I will initiate a claim at the Bureau of Unemployment.
